PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

Nothing brings us nostalgia more than memories of close family relationships, broken and shattered. This graduating class has reached the time when it severs the educational family ties at CVS, and goes it's individual way. You have been a part of our professional family for four years. You have enjoyed the comfort and pleasures of intellectual intimacy. You have grown up with the other members while sharing discoveries and learning experiences.

The joys and delights of the close ties, now broken, the balms that soothe the mental hurts, and the empathy providing support to bruised egos, make up the glue that holds the family together.

I have watched this class grow up in the CVS family, only to leave us behind and find pathways to other relationships. When you are gone the emptiness can only be filled with other growing, curious, intellectuals who, too, will create nostalgia in their own time.

Roosevelt Burnett

ADMINISTRATORS—FAMILY LEADERS

Dr. Burnette, as head of "the family" merit compliments and accolades of praise for his guardianship and guidance. He and his able assistant principals—Mr. Arburtha, Mrs. Brady, Mrs. Crittendon and Mr. Tofilski, all have defined responsibilities to make for a successful operation of a school the size of C.V.S.

Although, the administrators do what is necessary to assure happiness and success among the student body, they believe in the rights of individuals to make decisions about their productive lives so the students will be better prepared to take their places in the world as contributors.

FACULTY RECOGNITION DINNER DRAWS TOP ADMINISTRATORS AND THE PRESS

School Superintendent Ruth Love added spark to the CVS Faculty Recognition Dinner this year.

She spoke on unity and achievement, two necessary things in any household. Television anchor woman Linda Yu gave an inspiring talk on her experiences in Chicago and where she grew up. She also reflected on achievement. Dr. Burnett and District Superintendent Dr. Joan Ferris summed up the speeches with words of wisdom.

SENIOR CLASS NOTABLES

Who's Who for the 1985 Class

The distinguished notables' names are submitted through the senior divisions and compiled and voted on for their popularity in the different sections. These students are admired, respected, and well known by their fellow classmates. These are students who can carry a full academic program successfully, sometimes a job and still stand out strikingly. Congratulations to this special family.

SENIORS 1985

The Seniors of 1985 have come long ways together. We as a family have been united together for the first time in 1981. We were teased, laughed at and maybe tricked

We have been through a lot within the years we've been together such as attended activities, cried, sang worked, all the things you can think of we did it as a family

We will always be remembered not only by friends but teachers as well. I know we will be missed throughout C.V.S., but now we will finally make our departure as a class, but we will always be as one

Chicago is a city with two types of folks

The serious ones who work with no play

I'd much rather be with the party people,

Who dance all night and all day
In Chicago, It's windy and cold at times

And freezing in the wintertime
I'd much rather have summer year round,

Then you meet people of all kinds
You hang around on the corner and trip

With all of your friends and so
Then you get together and pull to

And ride as far as the bus will go
Chicago is a lovely place to visit,
It's also a great place to live

our New Superintendent of Schools

On March 15, 1985, Dr. Byrd became Chicago Public School Superintendent. During his 30 years in the system, he became respected as a master teacher, an assistant principal, a principal of three schools, an assistant to the general superintendent, a deputy supt in charge of day to day operation of the school system, deputy superintendent in charge of instruction and pupil services and deputy supt in charge of systemwide reorganization.

Dr. Byrd received his doctorate degree in administration from Northwestern University and an M.A. in educational psychology from Atlanta University.

C.V.S. in National Journal

Our principal Dr. Roosevelt Burnett, submitted an article about C.V.S. "Excellence to a Troubled School" to the November/December 1984 issue of Journal of the American Vocational Association's World. In essence, the article stated that making C.V.S. safe again has allowed students to reach for excellence through improvement of the curriculum, involvement of parents and community, inclusion of the local clergy and outgoing cooperation with businesses.

The article stated that the teachers, too, played a part in bringing the school back together by requiring each teacher in each department to develop annual goals, activities, and measureable expected outcomes for each of their classes. The teachers' goals were to increase achievements, improve attendance, reduce discipline reports, increase passing grades, student competitions entered and won, and community participation.

In addition, monthly inservice sessions stressed the role of the teachers and staff in modeling exemplary department and performance. As these improvements brought a fresh new environment, more than 1600 this year Dr. Burnett reported "We are striving to graduate at least 85 percent of that 1600. We know we are on the right track. We salute Dr. Burnett."

Chicago Vocational High School was one of twelve vocational schools in the United States that was visited by the President's National Commission on Secondary Vocational Education in May 1984. One of the participants in that visitation, Dr. Michael J. Dyrenfurth, professor of Industrial Education at the University of Missouri, was favorably impressed with what he saw taking place in the teaching-learning process at C.V.S.

In an effort to share with others what he saw at C.V.S., he was successful in encouraging publication of the article that appeared in the November-December 1984 issue of the American Vocational Associates (VOC-ED) Journal.

Dr. Burnett discusses school improvements with Dr. Joan Ferris, Dist. Supt.

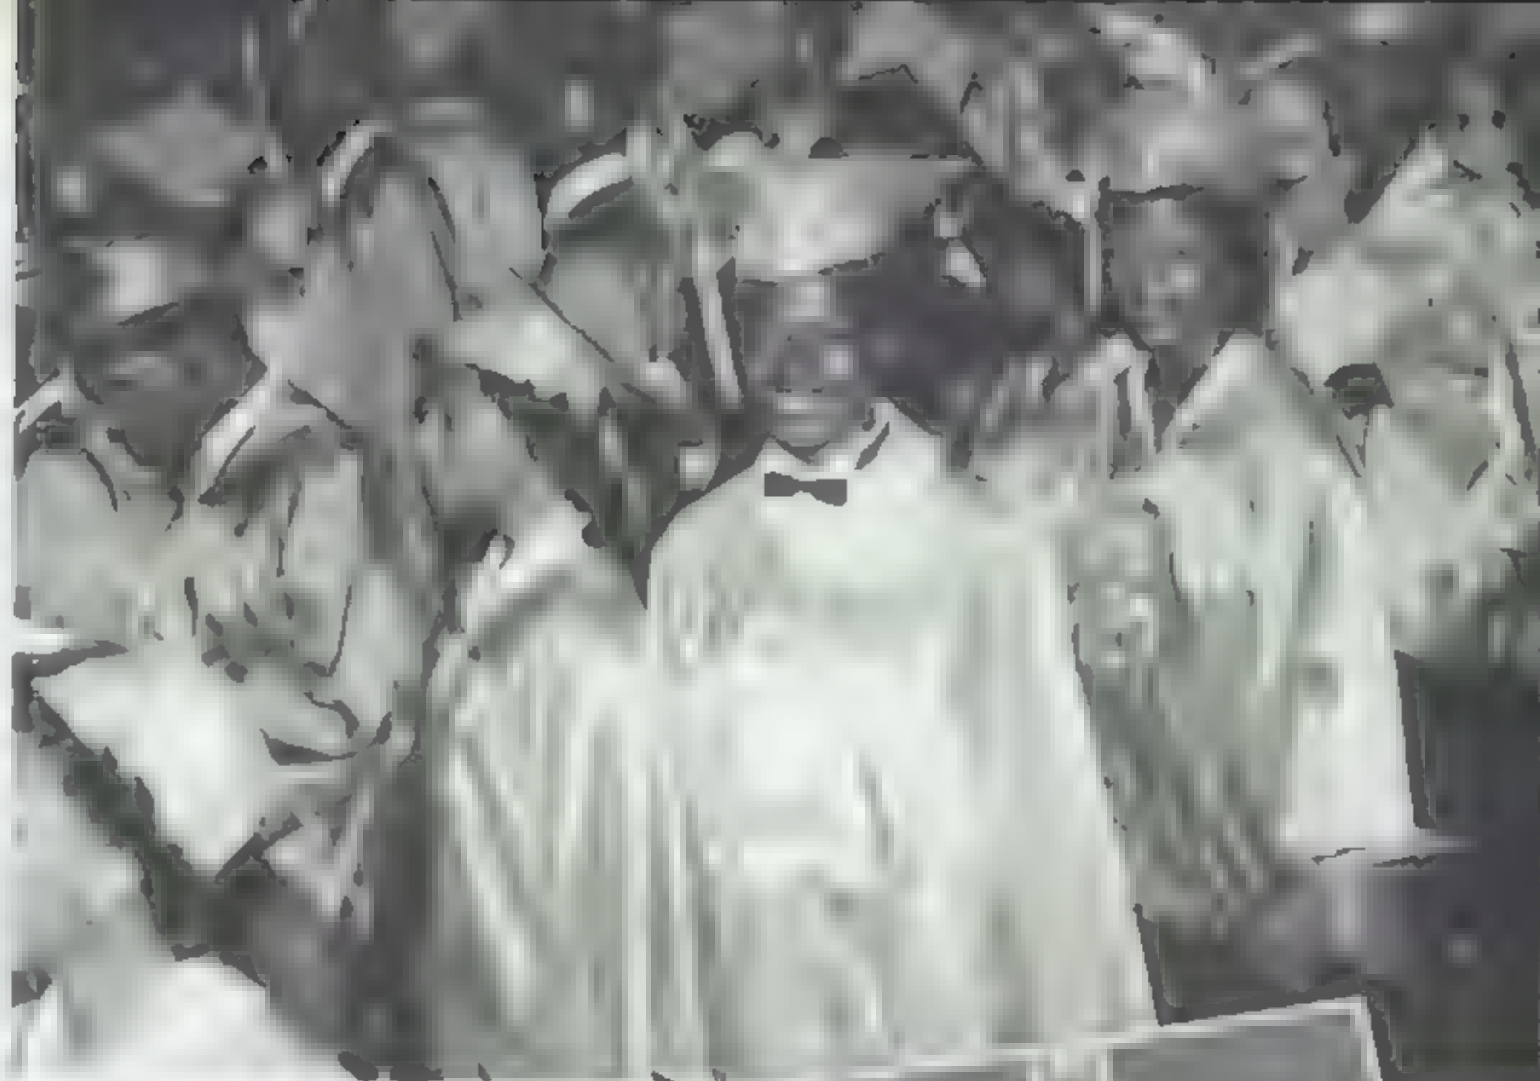

Mr. Arburtha gives a report to a school inspector.

Horrace Mann's Memory Lane

I remember the years of grammar school
All the laughter and all the fun
Acting like fools in all of our classes
And never getting our schoolwork done
We would talk about TV, the weather, and little odd things
We had a million and one things to say
We talked about what happened early that morning
Or what we planned to do later that day
We and I stuck together all the time
We were like sisters, we were so close
Chewing gum in the back of our science class
To others we would little ups and downs
And crazy little turn-arounds
We always had that sisterly care
That if either of us needed the other
we would always be there

Our family reunion was the biggest we ever had. We started out with six meetings to organize the event. They were between January and June of 1984. During the meeting we discussed the date, food and cost of this great occasion. We also had to determine how many people would be attending at $25.00 per person. Children paid $10.00 and members who could not afford anything, came free.

The Condessa Del Mar was the location we agreed on and at 6.30 on a Saturday. After the dinner, we had a talent show, games and gifts to the oldest member of the family and the youngest.

Who is united in all its endeavors

Just like any other set
It must surely be their quest
Just as one hand washed the other
They surely support one another

Love throughout
And team work within
The family is one
Who seldom gives in

The next day we had the grand finale which was the Family Picnic in Calumet Woods on 127th Street just past Ashland. There was lots of food, games and prizes. We had volleyball, softball, sac race, relay race and jump rope. Friends of the family were also invited so we had a chance to bring our best girl friend or boy friend. It was a big success and everyone enjoyed themselves.

The whole idea for the reunion was to become closer to each other and meet family members whom we had never seen.

The Jackson Victory Tour Concert

by Marilyn Davey and Kimberly Clay

The lights went out and the crowd started behaving like it was midnight on the dance floor. As the Torture video began, five gorgeous faces lit up the screen; Jackie, Michael, Marlon, Randy, and Tito ... The long awaited Jackson Victory Tour was underway. When the video ended the crowd simmered down, but not for long. The lights came up as the narrator told the story of the Sword in the Stone (which gave a fantasy-like atmosphere).

Smoke filled the stage as a cage began to rise 7 feet high. As they descended from the cage, loud thunder-like sounds echoed their footsteps. Randy walked forward with much charm and grace, his hair luscious and his made up eyes searching the cloudy sea before him. With sword in hand he proclaimed "We Have The Kingdom." A frenzy of lasers engulfed the stadium. The music began ... and the Jacksons went on to sing the hit single "Wanna Be Startin Somethin", the audience didn't need any encouragement.

Five takes later the hit of hits and the ultimate of performances was "Billie Jean". The music started and the pleasure needle went well into red. The crowd jumped to their feet with hopes of catching the hat we all know so well. The pelvic thrusts began to the beat of the music. He enticed the crowd with moonwalking and pop-locking movements. Screams could be heard more than three blocks away.

In no time at all the dreaded moment neared and the concert ended. After saying good-bye, the Jacksons descended from the stage while fireworks and lasers filled the cold blue sky.

Behind the heated lights he inadvertently provokes the audience, but it is on stage that King Michael reigned supreme.

DATA PROCESSING—NEW IDEAS THAT WORK!

L. Surratt, A. Walker, D. Lillard and A. Lake examine computer output

D. Jacobs, Mark Simmons, Jahiz Hillis, Eric Smith and Francis Thurman prepare for their assignment

Data Processing is using your skills in computer. There are two machines in this shop. The two machines are the key punch and the terminal. The key punch machine records information on a key punch card. It's referred to a data entry device. The other machine is a terminal it is not a computer but rather it communicates with a computer. It's a sending and receiving device. There is another device in the room and it is the modum. The modum maintains contact between the computer and the terminal. The telephone in the room is used to make initials connection with the computer. Not just anybody can get into data processing. The class, which is taught by Mrs. A. Scott, is very challenging.

Ms. A. Scott consult with students on computer art; they attempted to do CVS.

Marilyn Davey makes all concerts.

He lead his band into fast paced versions of "Little Red Corvette", "1999", "Let's Go Crazy", "Delinious", and a solo called "God", as he moved around the set which sometimes held a white circular stair case, an iron balcony, a firemen's pole and a purple electric piano. Retiring from the Brass bed that held him in the 1999 Concert, Prince bathed in a purple bath tub.

The dreaded moment arrived and Prince ended with the movie theme song Purple Rain.

Although this concert pleased his older and young fans, this show has a different approach. For those fans, like me who have seen his spicier side in shows such as the 1999 Concert. But, I must say that with this and other concerts, Mr. Nelson has taken on his rightful title. We know him as ... PRINCE."

Marilyn Davey

PRINCE—A Millionaire at 25

Although a bit toned down from the subjectiveness of his former concerts, this show was no doubt a complete success.

A 14-song set included most songs from his semiautobiographical smash hit movie and album Purple Rain.

He captured all attention as he, bathed in a purple haze, strode across the stage. A shower of rose petals and carnations cascaded from above. He pressed forward and said "Hello Chicago, my name is Prince and I've come to play with you," in a sexy voice. The crowd went wild.

Prince, the 25-year-old rock star who many say is challenging social and sexual norms in the wake of Jimi Hendrix, has an estimated worth of between $4 million and $7 million. The versatile star from Minneapolis, Minn., writes, produces, sings and plays a variety of instruments on his albums which include such million sellers as Controversy and 1992. Later this year, he is scheduled to star in a movie which, reportedly, is based loosely on his life.

ENGLISH

REACH OUT AND L

Michelle Camper tries to start her term paper for English.

Writing is one of the most popular means of communication used throughout the world. Mastering skills in correct grammar usage and objective writing, along with building vocabulary makes English the most vital academic for any student who hopes to excel. Knowing what to say, how to say it, and when to say it is one goal of the English Department.

The English Department strives to improve speaking, reading and writing skills, to help students develop an appreciation for art, literature, and drama, and this to motivate students to excel in the Language Arts by tutoring the ones who need it and exposing them to live plays through field trips, and mandatory studying and viewing of a Shakespearean play on each grade level.

Freshmen students are tested and placed in either of the appropriate — Honors, Regular, and Essential English. The able upperclassmen may select to take Humanities, Drama, Journalism, or the Mini-Courses instead of the Regular or Honors English.

The English Department provides further enlightenment and enrichment to students by sponsoring writing contests, the annual Communication Arts Festival, and the annual English Fair.

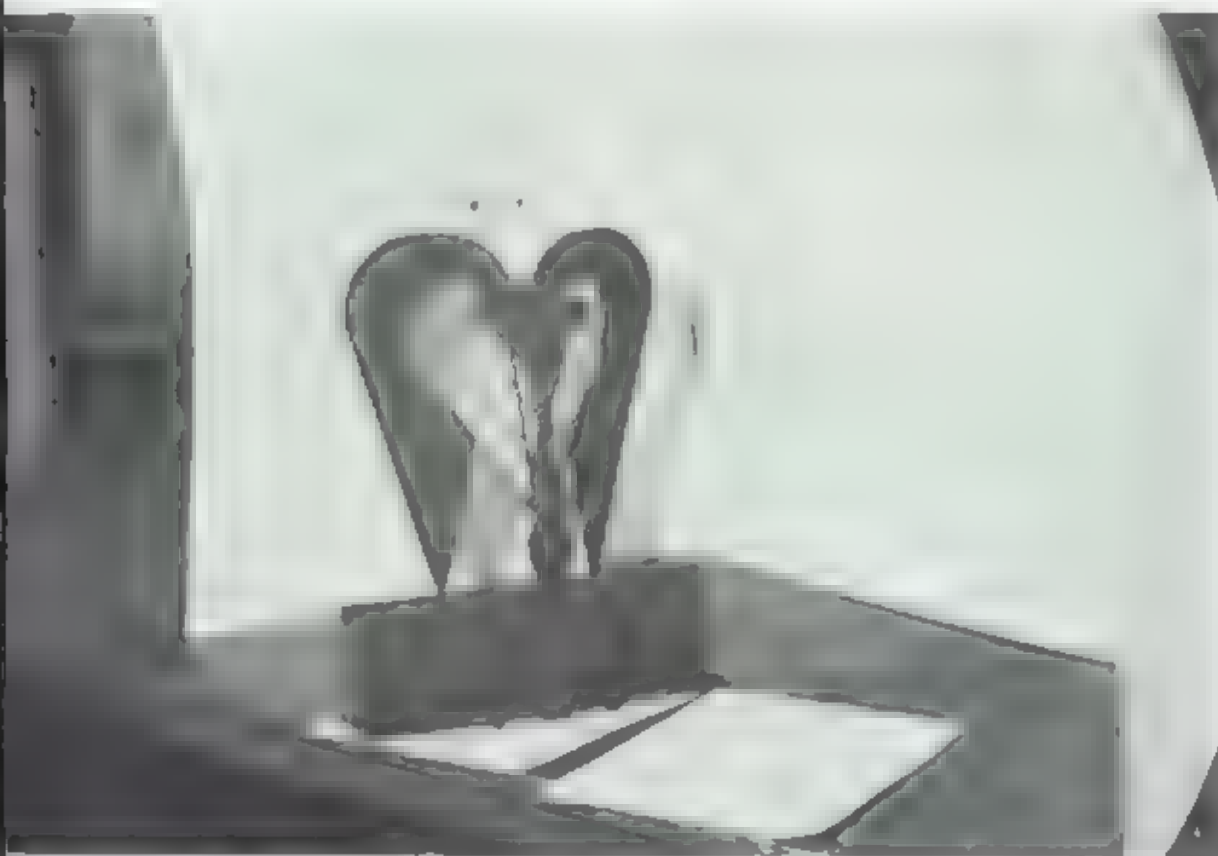

Thinking, writing and speaking properly is a priority for these students.

This class is working hard at vocabulary words for a test.

HISTORY—THE OLD BECOMES NEW!

Pablo Picasso was the subject of the winning exhibit by Jeffrey Gettis.

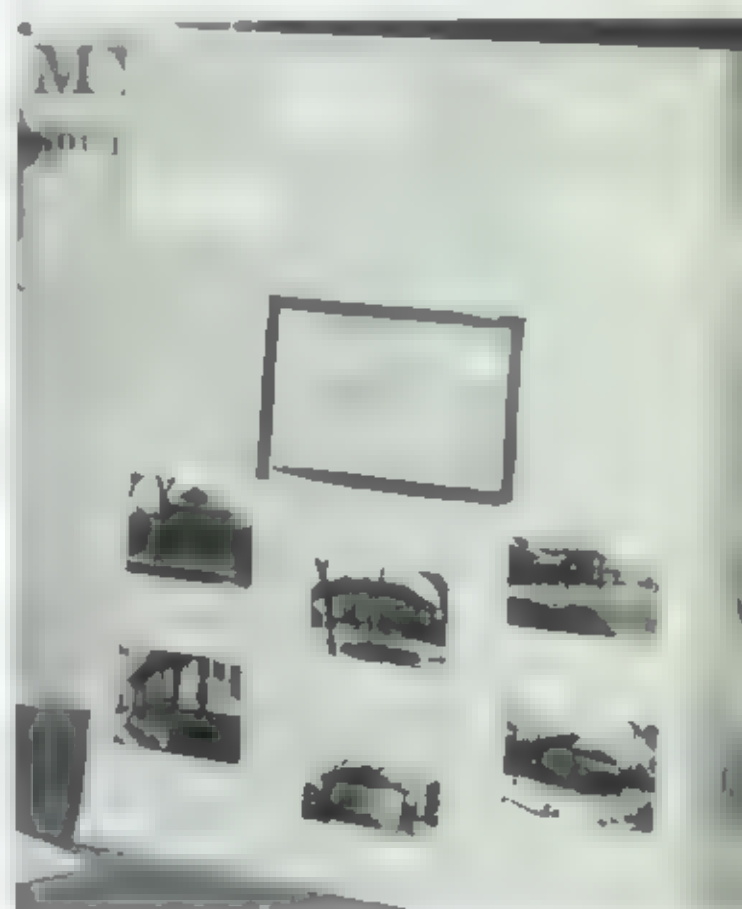

A student reads the accompanying report on the Chicago Fire.

Law, Economics, Humanities, Afro-American History, Contemporary History, and Future Studies are offered to the seniors at CVS by the Social Studies Department. The underclassmen may elect Early World History, Geography, Modern World History or United State History

The objectives of the Social Studies Department are to develop student awareness of their responsibilities as a citizen, to improve their communities skills; to help them develop the ability to make comparisons, decisions, judgements, and evaluations, and to present skills needed for critical thinking and problem solving

The textbook study, research assignments and the use of audio-visual aids such as tapes, filmstrips, maps and models, the students can visit other countries and begin to realize the complexities of the modern world

The Social Studies Department also sponsors the annual History Fair, the Political Forum the Black History Month Quiz and assembly, Afro Club, Law Day for seniors, the Law Club, Student Council, and Public Law Exam-Award

MATH

The Way To Success

As we start high school, we hear more about the need for advanced math. Math is very important in our society, especially in the fields of computers and engineering. The different courses of math require thinking and thinking skills are needed in our modern industrial society.

Our world is becoming very technical and everyone needs to know how important it is to take as much math as possible. This holds truth for students with no technical aspirations who just wish to improve their ability to think logically.

Mr. Williams shows G. Gibson the answer to a problem.

Several elementary schools participated in "Math Counts" sponsored by the Urban League.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Physical education forms an important part of the modern program of high school. It includes physical activities and sports of all kinds designed to improve posture, physical development, and general fitness and health. Physical education also provides fun and recreation. Programs in physical education cover a wide variety of activities and organized games, especially basketball, baseball, football, soccer and swimming, dancing, exercising, tennis and wrestling.

C. V. S. Physical Education instructors consider participation in track and field and swimming basic for all students, boys and girls alike. In addition to activities and games, instructors teach health and safety, the principles of hygiene, nutrition, and general physical care. Sportsmanship is also emphasized, along with desirable personality traits and character qualities. The students' participation in intramural sports programs, as well as varsity competition.

Ms. Magett lets her class practice shooting basketballs.

SCIENCE

Display of cell structure and the human body is in one classroom, Ms. Camponella is the instructor.

The high technological society has changed the course of Science. Students have to be better prepared in the advanced studies of science in order to compete in a field of engineering and other allied areas. New discoveries such as the home computers, laser beams, solar powered heating, nuclear powered electrical generators, solar powered calculators and typewriters with memories, the growth in telecommunications, and thousands of other scientific discoveries make it necessary for students to take such courses as Physical Science, Biology, Chemistry, and Physics.

Students may also gain valuable knowledge through other components of the Science Department. Through participation in the Science Fair, Annual Bridge Building Contest, and the Jets Club, students are able to make their own discoveries and present their projects to the judges for evaluation. Some of the students win four year scholarships to colleges or job placements.

Lt. Col. Guion S. Bluford became the first Black American to fly into space. He was aboard the Challenger space shuttle.

COMPUTER- AIDED DRAFTING C.V.S.—A Leader with C.A.D.

Computer-Aided Drafting (C.A.D.) is the newest state of the Art class at C.V.S. This is the only C.A.D. lab in the state with 18 stations which includes a state of the Art CAD system with 3-D capabilities. CAD uses Apple IIe with 128 Dual Disc Drives, 80 column card and graphics tablet. It uses software that simulates the most popular CAD system in industry—COMPUTER VISION.

Although the CAD system is in its first year at C.V.S., it has served as the perfect role model for others who wish to set the system up in other areas. Visitors from local community colleges, industries, Southern Illinois Univ., and Illinois State Board of Education have come to get first hand information on how to set up systems for their use.

This class is taught in room 265 by Mr. Ceretto. Eligibility for this class requires 'A' or 'B' grade in Drafting I, three recommendations from teachers, and a demonstrated interest in majoring in drafting.

A student who majors in Drafting and takes CAD in his/her sophomore, junior, and senior years will graduate with other 400 hrs. hands on training which is the most in the country at a high school level. This is a great and challenging class for all who like working with computers.

MUSIC

D. Day, C. Lovelady, and J. Parker, practice for a concert

Mr. Woods directs the Choir during an assembly.

General Music education is required of the freshman and sophomore students. Students are taught to appreciate music because it communicates something to them which can be momentary or enduring satisfaction. Music can be a form of communication in which sounds are deliberately organized in some manner for an artistic purpose.

The music majors and upperclassmen take other phases of music, such as vocal band, and orchestra. These groups perform at concerts, assemblies, and graduation ceremonies.

At the City Solo Festival, on January 10, 1985, at Jones Commercial H.S. — James Taylor received a Superior-No. I Rating — for his solo performance; Maria Toefield received an Excellent No. II Rating. Mrs. Bolin, their instructor, was the accompanist. The Girl's Chorus and the Mixed Chorus will perform at the City Choral Festival, April 16-19, 1985. Mr. Kenneth Woods, the department chairman, looks forward to winning a superior rating.

Many students come to Vocademics with talent.

ART—FUN FOR ALL

Art is a period during which the students can find an outlet for his emotions in a constructive manner; when he may explore materials and techniques freely, be curious and exercise inventiveness. Through the art medium, students often reveal feelings and thoughts about themselves which otherwise would remain hidden.

The Art I program fundamentally is designed acquaint students with a variety of materials, techniques and approaches. It is divided into five areas, two dimensional, three dimensional, print making, fibers and forms, and jewelry. Students attend museums and galleries in order to analyze works of art in terms of the five elements: line, color, form, texture, and value.

Students works are displayed in the Scholastic Art Contest, local fairs and the Craftsmen's Fair. For the career oriented students commercial art can be the next stop at the Junior and Senior level.

CAVALIER FOOTBALL COACHES—TOPS!

John Potocki

Coach Potocki graduated from Mt. Carmel High School in 1956, where he was All Section, All City, All Catholic League, Honorable Mention All State, and MVP Lineman in his senior year. John attended Oklahoma Military in 1966 where he played defense tackle. He is a graduate of Northern Illinois University, 1970, where he played defensive tackle. He was assistant football coach at Sycamore High School, Illinois in 1970, and came to CVS as an assistant coach from 1971-75.

In 1976 Coach Potocki was named Head Coach at CVS. That same year the Cavaliers went on to become Public League Champions and winners of the City Prep Bowl. John headed the Cavalier Team until 1980, and then joined the Thornton Fractional North High School coaching staff until his return to CVS in 1983.

Harry Watson

Coach Watson was the Cavalier Head Frosh-Soph Coach for three years before performing his duties as an assistant defensive coach and line coach with the varsity team. Mr. Watson assisted the CVS varsity staff for five seasons through 1980, and returned to coaching in the Fall of 1983.

Frank Czaja

Coach Czaja attended a Tech where he played four years of football as a defensive tackle and was named to the All Conference Team.

He attended the University of Illinois, Champaign-Urbana where he received his Bachelor's Degree in Industrial Educational and a Minor in Physical Education. After graduation, Frank was assigned to CVS. For the last nine years he has been coaching the freshmen and sophomores, with an overall 80% winning average.

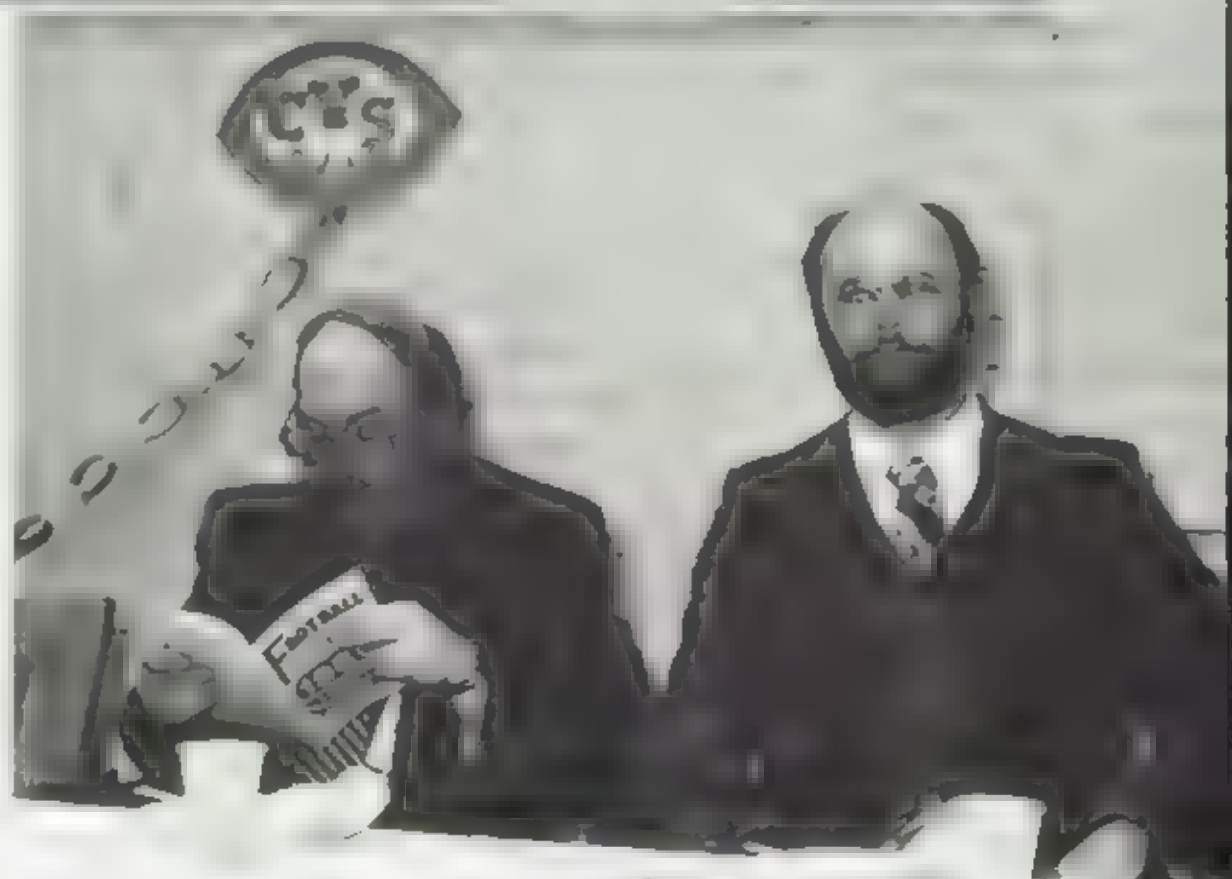

Coach Desco

Coaches Tim Sullivan and Ed Hall

Coach Timothy Sullivan, a graduate of DePaul University, and Coach William "ED" Hall, a graduate of Moorehouse University, have been coaching together for six years. They started coaching at Carver High in 1979 where, in three years, they led their teams to three Sectional Championships. After Carver, they coached at Washington High for two years, coming in second place both years. In 1984 they joined the CVS coaching staff where their team came in first in their section with a 8-1 record. In six years of coaching, their overall record has been 39-9-1.

Coach Fred Desco— Kicking Coach

Coach Desco attended Mt. Carmel High School. He attended Northern Illinois University where he played varsity soccer for four years, and earned his B.S. and M.S. Degrees in Education. He has been a seven year Head Soccer Coach at Chicago Vocational in which his teams have won two division titles, 80 and 82. In 1976 and 1977 he was the kicking coach, and since 1976, he has been the Chicago Vocational Strength Coach for all the CVS Varsity Teams.

Sullivan & Kosiak

Dr. Edward Pratt—Team Physician

Dr. Pratt attended Chicago Vocational in 1968-72 where he was an outstanding football player and wrestler. He earned three Varsity Letters, and was an All City Tackle in 1971. He went on to attend Tuskegee Institute, 1972-76, and then entered the University of Illinois Medical School until 1980. Dr. Pratt completed his internship at Columbus, GA, through 1981. From 1981 to 1983, he worked for the United States Public Health Service as a General Practitioner and Sports Medicine Doctor at Prairie View A&M, Texas. Presently he is at Michael Reese Hospital.

Cavaliers on the field

The CVS Varsity football team coached by John Potocki and his staff, had a fairly good season in 1984. The team finished the season 5-5, eliminating them from further play-off activity when they lost to Harper 13-14

The Cavaliers were on a roll of winning every other game. They lost to Morgan Park but beat Whitney Young Mendel demolished them, but they cremated Phillips. Washington embarrassed them, but they humiliated Hyde Park South Shore took them for the division of the neighborhood but Bowen was bombarded by their ruthless team They played Kenwood for homecoming and without a doubt, that game was in the bag. Those players were kicking some green on those days

Along with an impressive coaching staff, the team has four outstanding captains; George Boykins #89, Wallace Brown #50, Jeffrey Gougis #22, and Keith Giles #25 Their jobs were to see that all practices ran smoothly

Because of the good season, many scouts have come to talk to the players

Congratulations to the whole team!!

In the 1984-85 season, the Frosh-Soph Football team was divided into three sections, freshmen, sophomores and Varsity. The sophomores were coached by Mr. Sullivan and Mr. Hall who lead the team to a great victory over Washington 20-14.

The Cavaliers were successful in winning the game that made them famous by a touchdown pass of 80 yards from Quarterback Frank Johnson to wide receiver McDaniels.

The Sophomore team enjoyed fewer injuries this past year than any other season. Coach Sullivan spoke highly of the morale of the team and their academic achievements in order to stay on the team. They have proven to the world they are ready to be Varsity next year.

Coach Czaja and his coaching staff have put their coaching philosophies together for the FRESHMAN Football team. They have taken a group of young men and molded them into an excellent team. The coaches gave this football team attention and leadership and they should heart and desire

FRESHMAN started the season with a 14-7 win over Morgan Park, 12-6 win over Phillips, and the last home game 36-0 shut out over Kenwood

Coaches, Mr. & Mrs. Czaja, Mr. Anderson and the captains; T. Hicks, J. Graham, D. Taylor and Braxton led the sophomore teams with six wins, 2 losses and first place in their section

Wrestlers make Chan 7 News

Dr. Burnett appeared on Channel 7 News to explain why the Wrestling team at CVS was being omitted. The TV cameras were in the school last November and they aired the comments the same night. Because of the cuts in educational budgets, many extra curricular activities were on the verge of being scrapped or cut back. Wrestling was being phased out because of lack of funds.

With the aid of the news media to let parents know what is happening, volunteer coaches were secured for the position. One coach travels as far as the city limits in order to coach the team. Even with this threat over the future of the team, they were outstanding this year. Even with the difficulty of practice and meeting, the team has grown in membership and there was a proud macho look in the eyes of every member.

Three Wrestlers win medals and go
Downstate for competition.

Varsity Boy's Basketball

Mr. Cook, the varsity basketball coach recruits perspective players with winning attitude and maturity. Such players filled with so much energy are bound to work well together. Much progress has been made and yet they show more enthusiastic determination toward becoming even better in basketball. It is surprisingly amazing how much power they put into the sport. It is this power which makes C.V.S. very proud of its basketball team.

The CVS Girls' Basketball Team exhibits exceptional skills and techniques at every game. This team has come a long way in developing fundamental necessary to be a good player. They have had much experience and look forward to an exciting season this year. Their proficiency is due to long strenuous hours of practice after school. Their winning spirit has helped to develop a team that strives to be on top; and to the team, being on top makes all their hard work worthwhile. Their coach, Mr. Kimbrough, gives them the support that pushes them to win. Mr. Larry Lynn keeps pushing toward winning.

CAVALIERS SOUTHEAST SECTION CHAMPS!

After defeating tough teams like Mendel and Corliss, the Varsity Baseball team showed no signs of defeat. They continued their winning streak and made the entire school proud.

With outstanding performances by Tyree Fleming, Gene Sadler, Adnan Parker, Donald Conley and Otis Robinson, the Cavaliers were hard to defeat.

Coach Haas took over and did a wonderful job after the untimely death of his friend and dedicated Coach Fleming.

The C.V.S. Frosh-Soph Baseball team lost the 1984 Championship Game to Lane Tech. on June 12, 1984 leaving them in the No. 2 spot

Even though the Cavaliers lost, there were several good plays. Catcher Antoine James and shortstop Frederick Rash performed an extraordinary play at home plate

Coach Desco and Hamilton are to be congratulated on a fantastic season in his first year as head coach of the frosh-sophs

SOUTH SECTION CHAMPIONS—'84

Congratulations to Ms. Macros and the Girls Softball Team on their winning the South Section Championship of 1984.

The team works hard to get the chance to play in the Interscholastic Competition. Tryouts for softball have to know how to catch, hit, and throw a ball. Interested students may see the coach, Ms. Macros. Coach Drogula has assisted for the past three years and starts practice in March of each year.

SOFTBALL

Some of the returning starters from last year are Renee Cannon, .600 avg.; Donna Evans, .455 avg.; L'Tanya Williams, .488 avg. and Jenel Sutton, .490 avg. Also returning was Corraan Cowan, Cozetta Harris, Sabrina Oliphant, Kim Warner and Tonita Hare.

Congratulations to the team and coaches for a great year

Girls' Tennis

Strength in the arm is the important factor for girls tennis. Once the strength has been gained, then comes the practice of serving and hitting the ball at various levels over the net. The tennis participant strives to display skillful techniques. She wishes to perform with grace that attracts the eye. The CVS Girl' Tennis Team has become outstanding in their performance with other school.

Any interested girl may see Ms. Kubasek, the coach, about joining the team.

Coach Owens has been coaching the CVS Tennis team eleven years. The players made a good showing this year. The singles players in this year's squad are J. Dorsey, R. Duffin, J. Shanks and the doubles are M. Bennett and P. Brazile. There are three sections to the Public League Squads. South-Central-North was the most difficult to beat. The tennis stars in March and ends in June. Our team took Second Place in the City.

TEAM EFFORT MAKES WINNERS!

Soccer is one of the nation's fastest growing sports. The game is played on several levels throughout the world - professional, semiprofessional and amateur. Mr. Desco coaches soccer at CVS as part of its athletic program.

In the soccer game, two teams of 11 players try to kick or hit a ball into each other's goal. The team that scores the most goals wins. All the players except the goal-keepers must kick the ball or hit it with their heads or bodies. Only the goalies can touch the ball with their hands.

Robert Graham was voted as the number one player in the Chicago Public League by the Workers Association. Also named to the All-State Team by the Illinois High School Soccer Coaches Association.

Picked to the All-State team by the Chicago Tribune, Chris Grant, co-captain, was also voted to the Chicago Public League All-Star team. Tony Amoah was leading scorer and Mort Vollenwell Player Award for 1984. Other outstanding players are Steve Bailey, Aaron Washington, and I. Annang.

VOLLEYBALL

The volleyball team had an outstanding record of 10 wins and 2 losses. This year's team faced off against Harlan Robeson, South Shore, Collins, Bowen and Calumet. The team tied for First Place in its division and advanced to the city play-offs. Unfortunately, they lost to Cure with scores of 16-9, 13-15 9-15

The team will lose only two great players—Helen Johnson and Teresa Shegog to graduation but with the returning captain, Deannia Robinson, co-captain, Charmaine Williams, and members—Tanya Futord, Michelle Grady, Glorene Rhones and Sharise Williams, the team should be awesome!!

SHEETMETAL

Sheetmetal students study and learn the scientific principles behind the tools operation, which requires a good mathematical background to lay out a fitting and cut out projects. They are taught the drafting symbols, how to read the blueprints, how to design, cut and shape the metal, provide the proper seam for fabrication and sometimes weld the fitting together so that warm or cool air will travel properly from room to room and floor to floor.

Construction of hundreds of thousands of homes as well as industrial buildings caused a short supply of skilled technicians in the sheetmetal trade because it is difficult to think of any manufactured product which is not the result of the sheet metalist's skill. Not only does the sheet metal craftman fashion many products from the smallest kitchen utensils to the huge battleships, but also he builds the machine and tool with which all things are made. There is probably no other craft which is more demanding of creative skill from its craftman than that of the sheet metal industry.

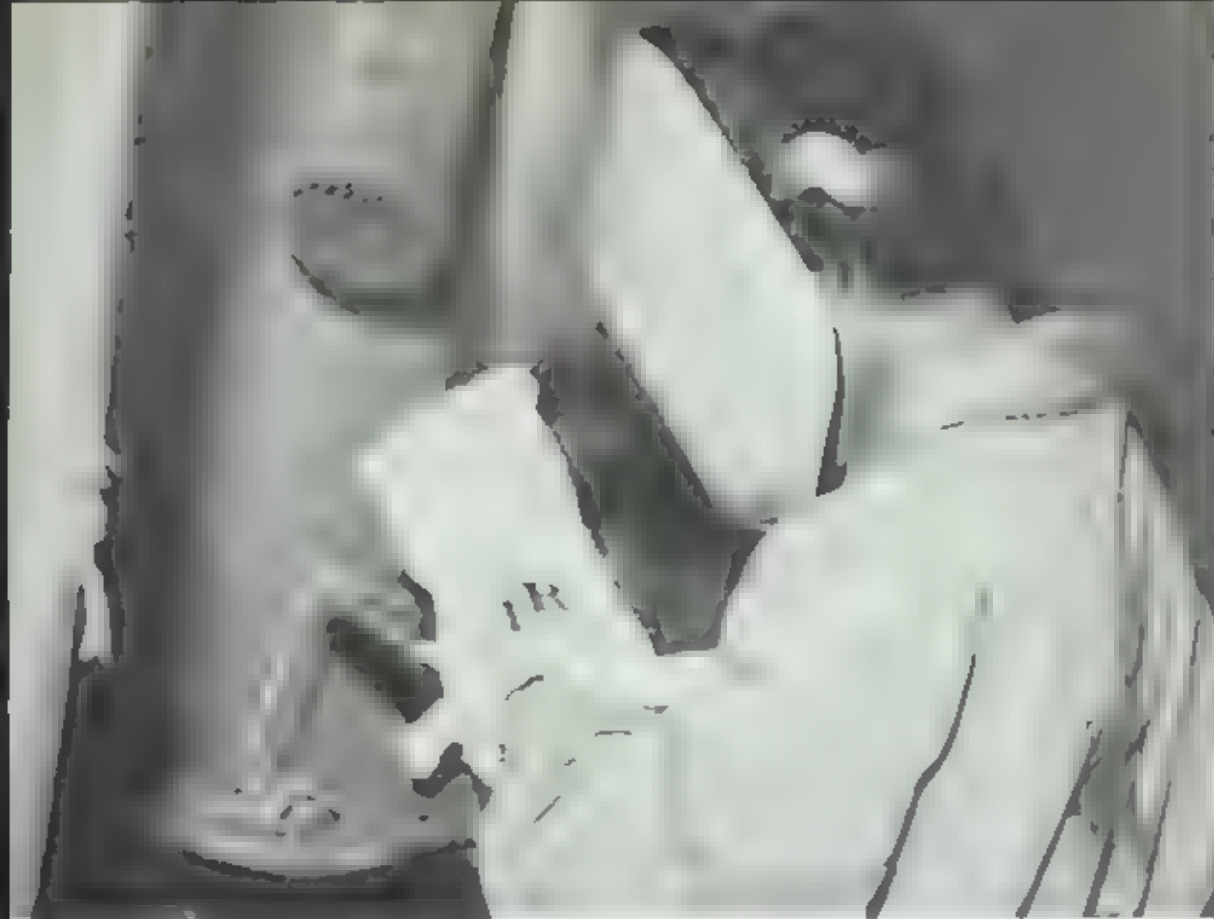

Mr. Williams shows his class how to straighten metal.

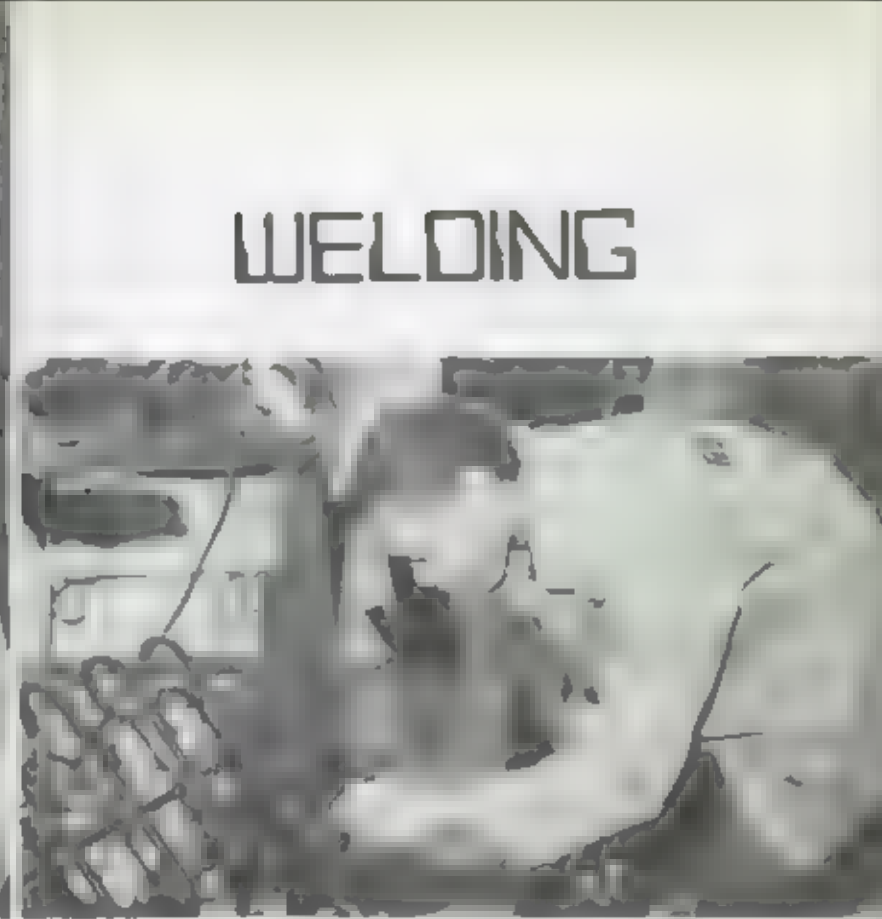

Seniors have learned to be accurate.

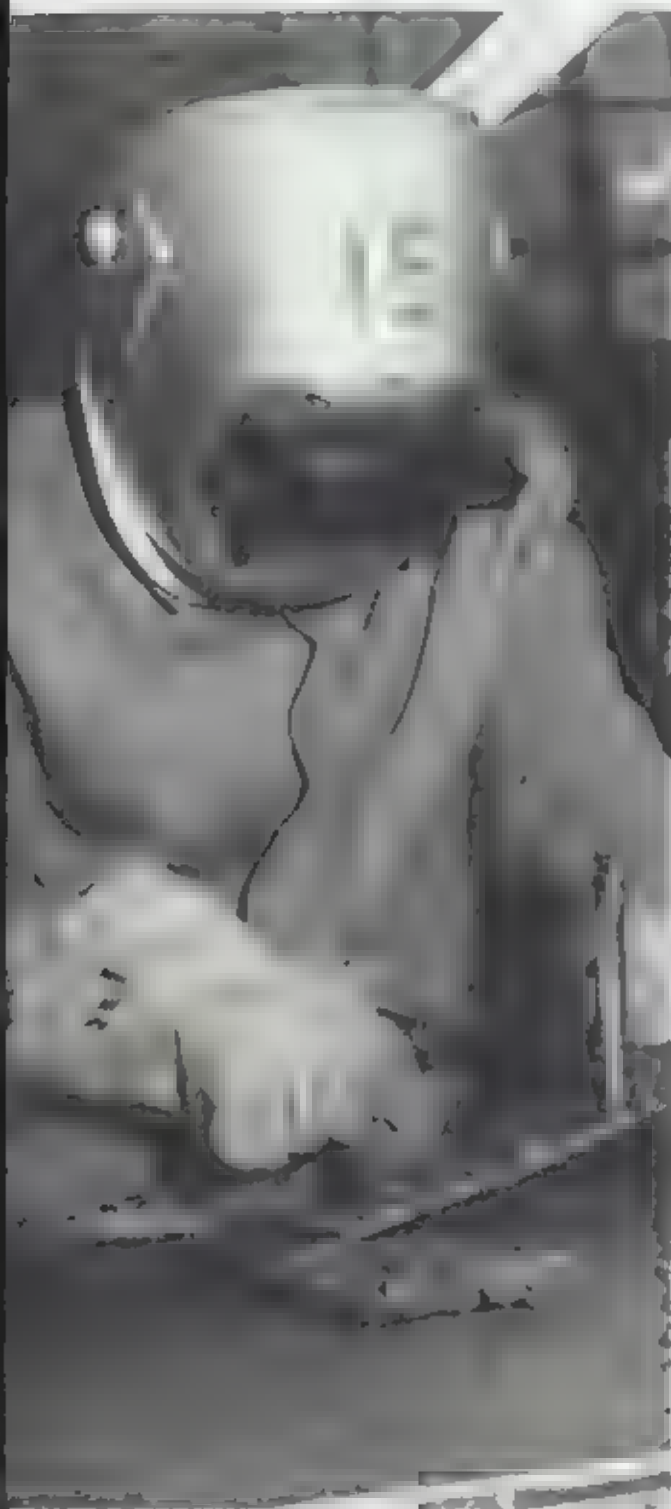

Learning to make a neat seam takes patience.

Putting on the finishing touches to a window guard is fine for Timothy Keeton.

Many days of practice are necessary for a good welder

Amos Shabazz is practicing welding for a special project

WELDING

Welding is a method of permanently joining two pieces of metal together, usually by means of heat. The student works with a small torch, or electric welding tool, or with a large automatic welding machine. The C.V.S. students learn the various types of welding such as pressure welding, electric arc, oxyacetylene, and thermite.

These various types of welding provide opportunities for contracting new productions and maintaining the old ones. The finished productions are entered into the Craftsman's Fair.

MACHINE SHOP

Machine shop teaches students how to use the machine in cutting, drilling, grinding, and shaping metals with power-driven machine tools. These important tools shape metal by cutting, shearing, hammering, or squeezing. Machine tools do to metal what a carpenter's tools do to wood.

Machine shop plays an important part in the production of almost all metal products known to man. Mr. Baacke permits his students to make small objects to be used as gifts during holidays and special occasions. These items are usually key chains, coins, book ends, pen holders, wall plaques, hammers and screw drivers. These projects were carefully selected and developed to achieve the objectives as well as to give the students satisfaction. Those who majored in the shop were able to judge wisely, think clearly, work industrially and achieve individuality.

Mr. Baacke shows his class safety regulations.

Delores Ferguson shows classmates how to make weights.

Frank Morris tightens a lathe.

Toni Campbell can work hours on one machine drafting drawing

MACHINE DRAFTING

Machine Drafting provides students the knowledge and skills to versatility in all industrial fields. This shop trains students to design tools, structured drafting, layout work, and die design

Juniors and Seniors gain industrial experience by showing off their finished products in the Craftmens Fair

Gilliam has completed his drawings for the day

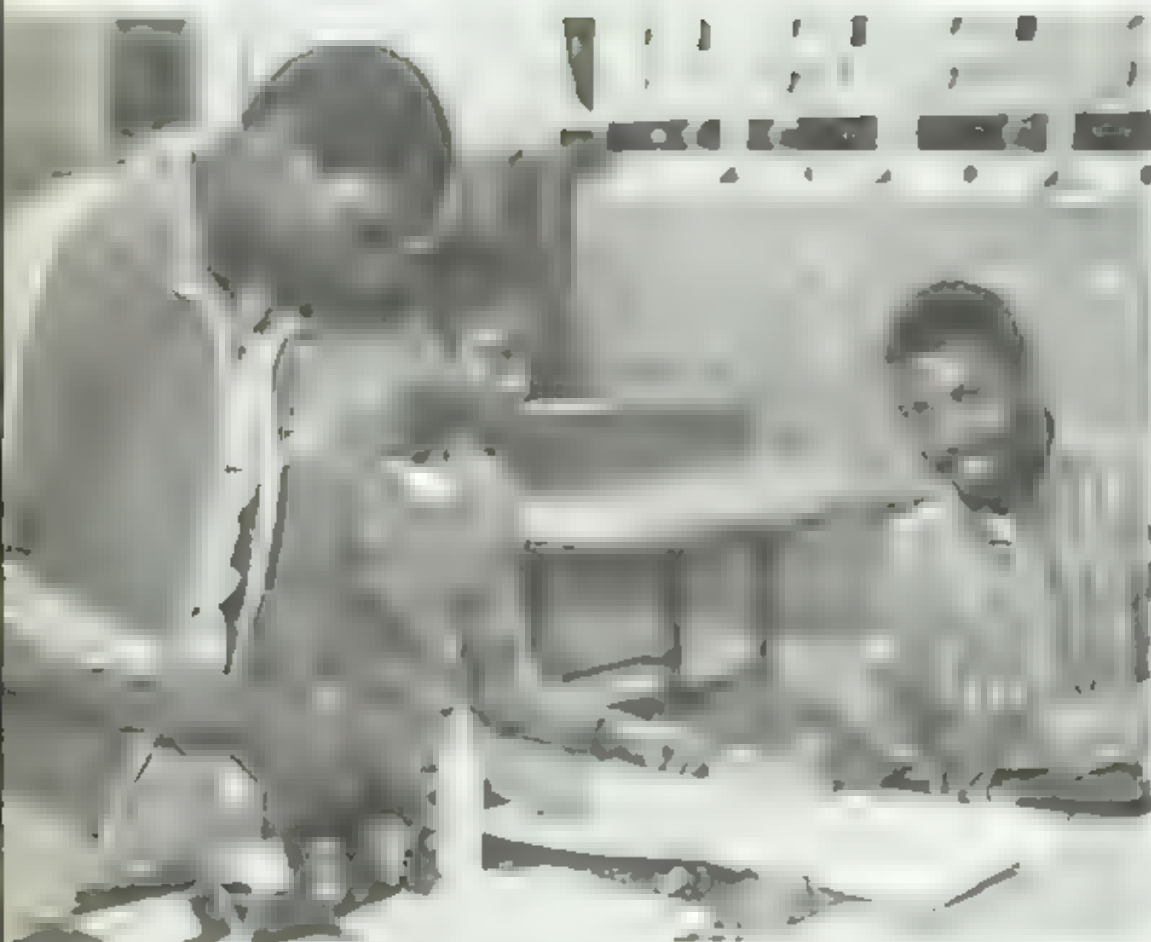

Ricky Luster shows a friend how one problem is solved.

These students win awards and recognition. Some products are even sold. The experiences introduce the students to the real world of work.

Background work is provided by Machine Drafting for the popular field of engineering. Now a new aspect has been added to the class to give it a new dimension and add technology. Computer Aided Drafting updates Machine Drafting with the Apple-II. Mr. Cassello teaches this shop.

ELECTRONICS

Nathaniel Moore, Tyrone Moore and Zerik Douglas work on a class project for the Craftsmens Fair

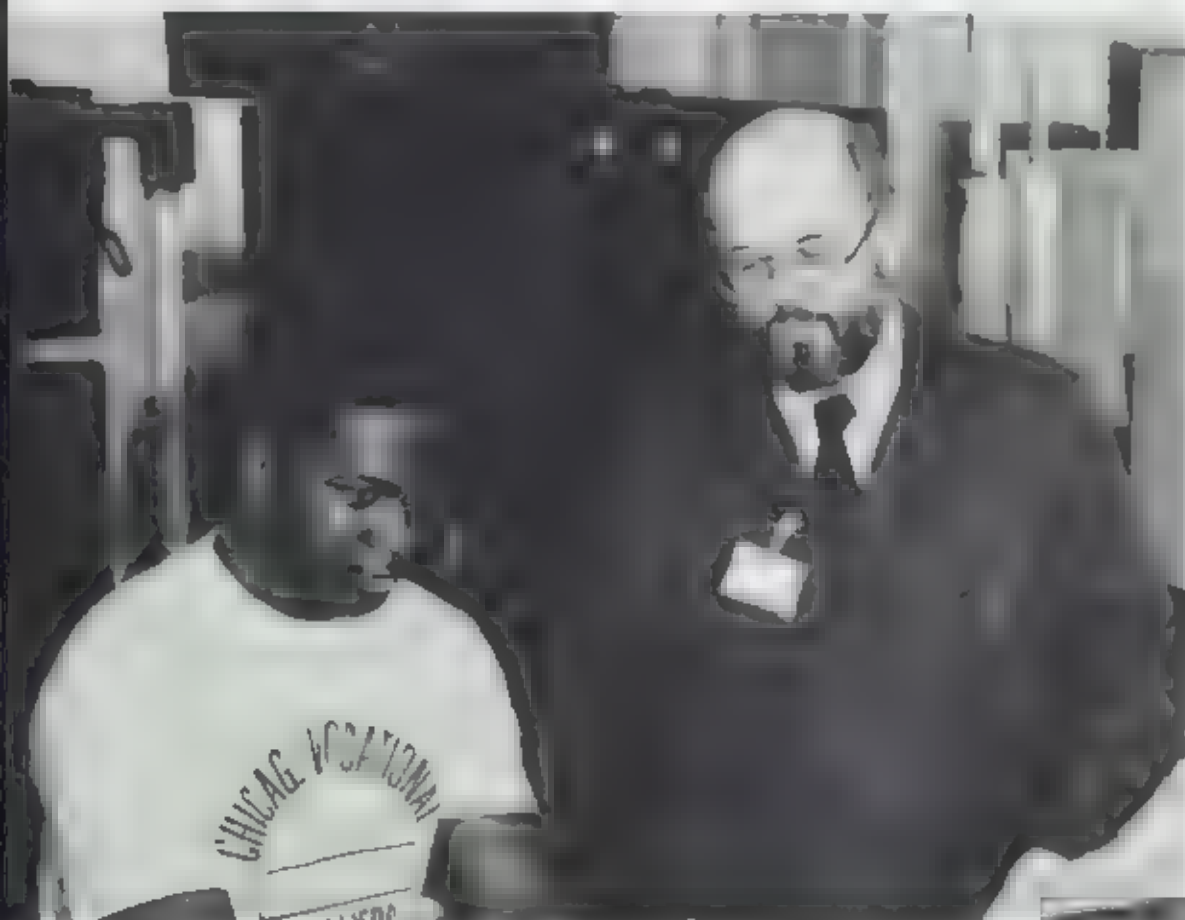

Servicing electric typewriters is a part of the electronics shops where Michael Boyd is a member

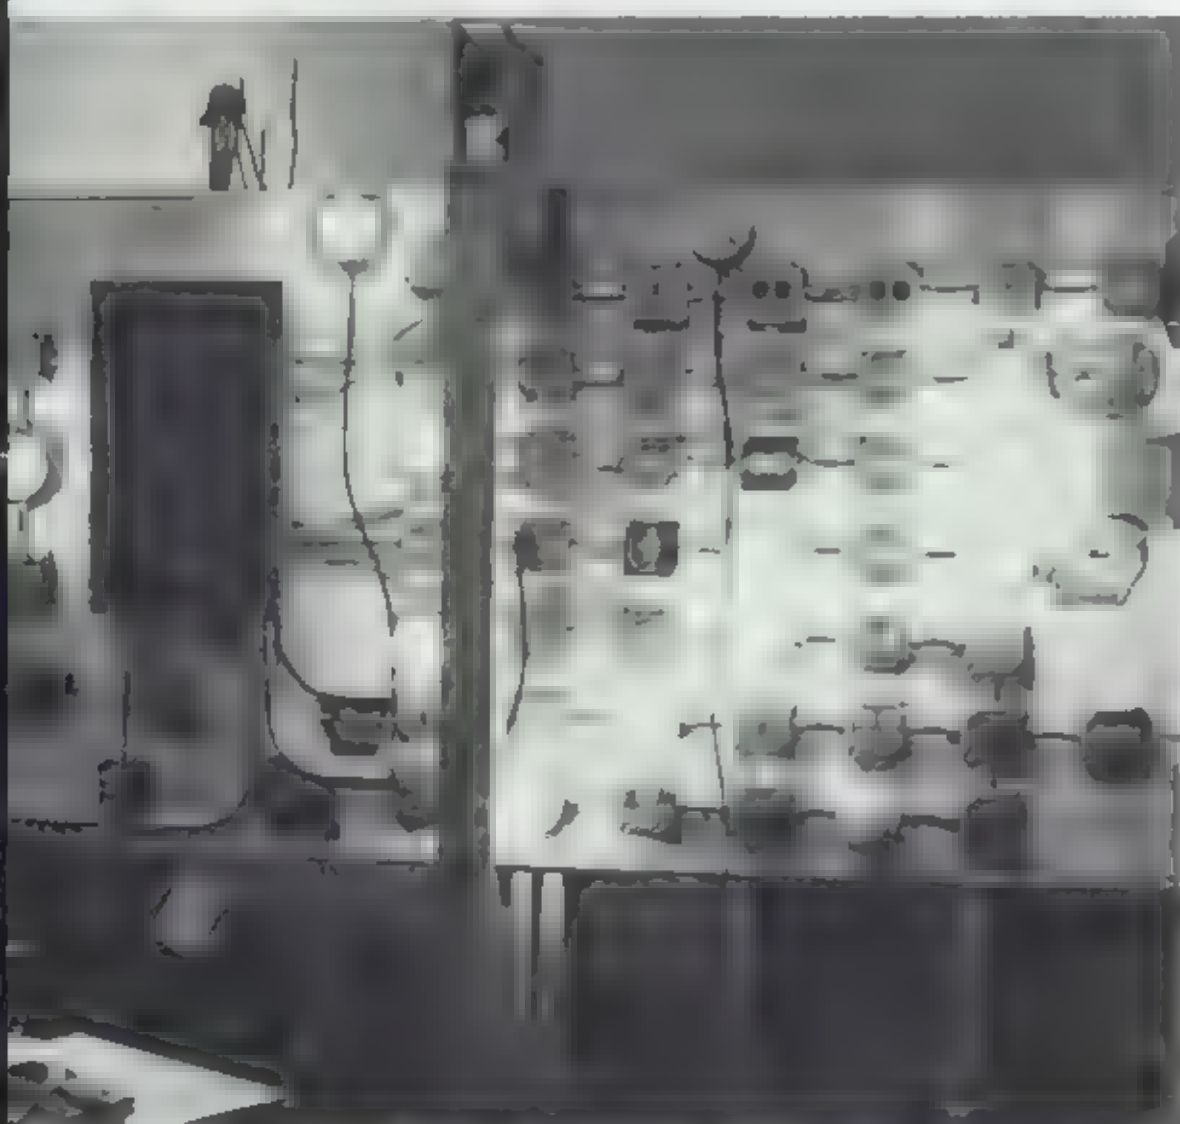

Finding the problem and solving it is what James Fluker and Glover Jones likes.

ELECTRICITY—ELECTRONICS

Kenneth Coleman, a junior, shows Mr. Robinson projects on a tester

Electricity display for Craftsman Fair

Mr. Erling and Mr. Burton lead the electrical department. In both students are taught from the most basic fundamentals to the most technical knowledge that will enable them to secure future positions

Chris Woulard, a senior major in Electronics thinks

"We are directly involved in the serving and the maintenance of most types of electronics devices."

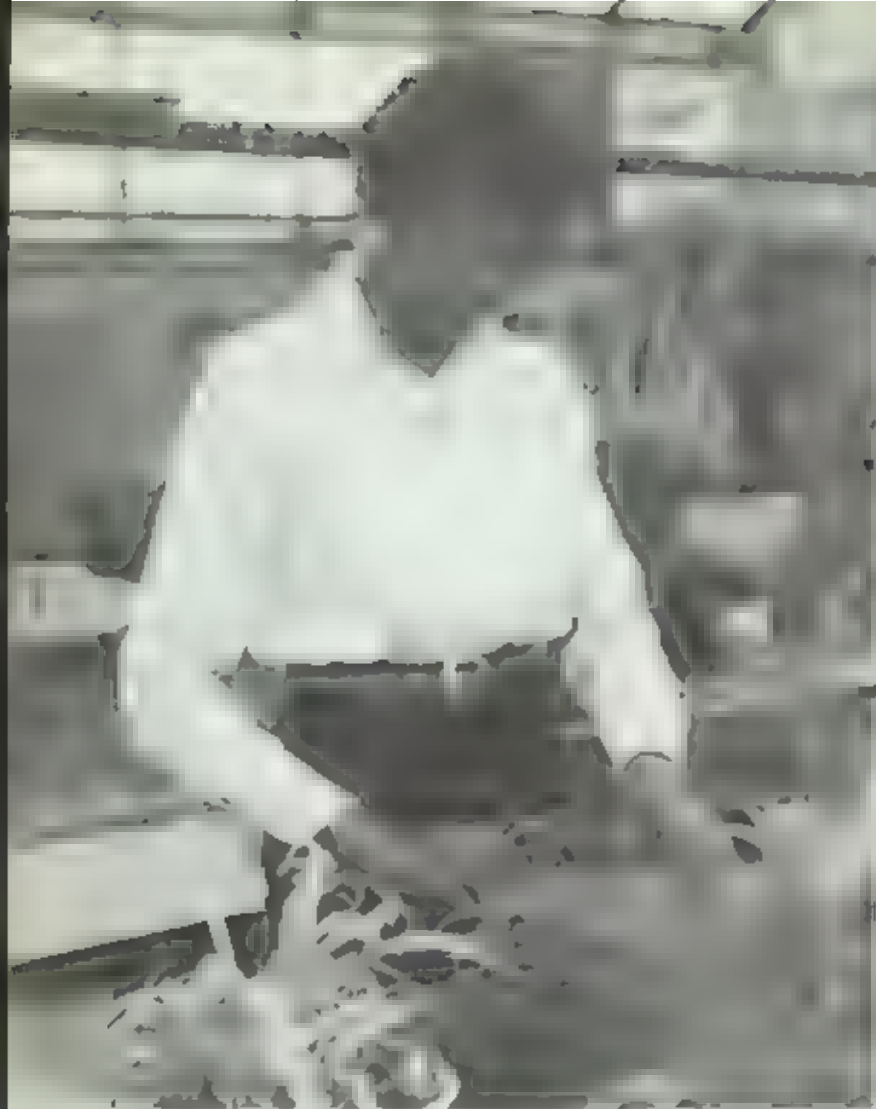

Serving both black and white televisions and colored televisions are our specialties."

"Quote"

Electricity

Most of the students in these shops plan on pursuing challenging careers in the engineering and high technical fields. These shops really prepare the students from basic knowledge to on the job experience

In Electricity Shop, students learn to wire homes and bring them up to city code requirements. Eliminating the hazard of fire and over loading of circuits is studied and becomes a part of the grade. How do all of the electrical things actually work? This is what Electricity students learn and we wonder

Gaylyn Harrell attends plants in the greenhouse

HORTICUL- TURE

Green Thumbs Works in Greenhouse

Horticulture is widely practiced as an industry, as well as a hobby. Students help grow ornaments plants for use in creating attractive surroundings. Instruction in the fabrication of floral designs and corsages is valuable to those desiring to enter the floral or associated industries.

The course teaches the practical applications of scientific principles including the cultivating of plants and shrubs; mixing, testing, and fertilizing of soils; transplanting, planting and care of lawns; landscape designs, designs involving estimating and blueprint reading, and the grading, packing, and distributing of flowers for the market.

Under the direction of Mr. Sarantopoulos, the graduates can look forward to going into industry.

Antonette Warren and Garbriella McClendon arrange plants.

Leslie Ellis and Darlene Burton start first with good black dirt

GRAPHIC ARTS

Placement of cards or paper is extremely important on the Platen Press.

Class periods are structured for the maximum production from advanced and beginning students.

Crysty Randall makes sure there are no ink spots on her work during printing

As we know, Graphic Arts is printing shop that can become a major. Printing tickets working on the school newspaper, doing out-side jobs for other company's or schools' is our major goal

Graphic Arts is a good experience for students who have never worked on a printing press before

The 1st and 2nd period classes in Room 113, printed cards for themselves this year

Printing can be fun and can train you for a job

FASHION DESIGN

Jackie Russell cuts the foundation for a suit

Pressing regularly is necessary for a perfect fit

Dreaming of designs.

Tailoring is the most advanced class of dressmaking. In this class, the primary concern is placed upon the whole and its completeness in all phases of design. Some of these phases are constructing patterns, wardrobes, and alterations. The fundamental harmonies of design must first be observed and studied by the student before he attempts to realize them. The completed work of each student is unique, because as individuals, they must satisfy their own personal tastes and efforts for success.

Rita Johnson works hard to finish her outfit for the fashion show.

Reading a pattern may take three persons. Audres McFadden, Monique Scales, Lalasha Bonds and Cynthia Hardy

The finishing touches makes Yvonne Cannon and Rosalyn Stephens garments look professional.

FASHION DESIGN

In the Fashion Design class, the girls are taught how to dress attractively by designing and making their own clothes and by selecting intelligently when buying off the rack. They are taught how to alter clothes to fit their style and taste.

Ms. Lee and Mrs. Preacely inform the students of the many different designs in the world of sewing. All the sewing students profit by learning sewing skills and the more ambitious students take more advanced sewing and continue to sew professionally.

Throughout the year, unique designs and fashions are shown at the various fashion shows and later these garments are entered in the Craftsman's Fair and judged for prizes.

Judy Lowe measures the lapel of a garment she has designed.

COMPUTER MAINTENANCE

Kenetta Jones shows a friend how to use the Apple Computer

Antwea Redic tries to locate a trouble area on her computer

Philip Byrd uses his equipment to test circuits for trouble

Computer maintenance is a very challenging shop at CVS. It's highly advanced with some of the school's brightest students. It's one of the top shops in the school and has a promising future for students majoring in Computer Maintenance. There is always room for electricians, and Computer Maintenance is a high paying job field.

Students at CVS design their own projects to enter into the various fairs. They win ribbons, trophies, and scholarships for quality work. This shop requires dedicated work but the students feel it is not all work. There's a lot of fun in it. Computer Maintenance is always looking for bright young students to increase its growth.

BUSINESS

The main objective of C.V.S. Business Department is to develop within the student's marketable skills so that he will be more successful at work after graduation. The Business Department offers a variety of skills such as the following: Typing, Gregg and Touch Stenography, Secretarial Science, Accounting, Office Occupation, Distributive Education, Sales and Management, Data Processing, and the latest — Word Processing.

Intensive efforts and funds have been expended to equip the Business Department with the latest machines. They are the key punch and the terminal. Mrs. Butler, the department chairperson, and the other business teachers keep pace with new demands of industry by equipping students with knowledge, skills, and attitudes necessary for successful performance on the job and future promotions. Selected juniors and seniors can also take advanced court reporting.

The students practice careers and professionalism every Wednesday. They dress and talk in business manners on Wednesday and they find this fascinating. After graduation, the graduates can confidently enter the labor market.

STENOGRAPHY

LaShelle Wilson practices word processing.

Myron Washington can use steno in college

Jacqueline Duffin and Electra Lay test Myron.

Sahrvel Harris, Shelia Haynes and Phobe Washington want jobs in steno.

Steno classes are for serious minded students.

Shorthand is one of the most promising aspects of the business world. Secretaries with shorthand skills are in demand everywhere. It is good to have typing drills, but you have a great advantage with shorthand skills.

The Business world is tough but with skills, you can survive. C.V.S.' shorthand class can prepare you for that task. In most shorthand classes, you learn to take dictation at a high speed. You also learn to take and transcribe shorthand at a high speed. After taking this class, students will have reached the goal of 100 to 120 wpm in shorthand and 40 to 60 wpm in typing. Taking shorthand can be a great advantage to everyone.

Lisa Boswell, Linda Ward and Pheobe Washington are working on accuracy during data processing.

WORD PROCESSING

A Few Words About Word Processing

Rochelle Jones has increased her speed in typing by ten words in one week.

The Senior Word Processing Major class was taught this year for the first time at CVS. The current studies of the students have had two years of preparatory training for Word Processing and were well-prepared for the "Hands on" task.

Word Processing simplifies and speeds up the process of document preparation by eliminating the need for retyping and utilizing the computer's ability to organize, search and manipulate data. It additionally enables one to prepare and revise documents in a highly efficient way regardless of the length of documents.

Typical work flow: Input, proofread, print out first draft, edit and revise, finish, print final draft, file. Stores a copy of your document on the diskette in an economical way and reopens the document later as needed.

Everyone should have some knowledge of the word processor.

Mrs. Washington shows Archibald some important keys in data processing.

SECRETARIAL PRACTICE II

Secretarial Practice II is a vocational course taken in ones senior year. The course includes advanced studies in typing, stenography, and office practice. In order for the vocational student to excel in this class he must attend school regularly and have excellent study habits. If one misses a day of this class, it is quite difficult to catch up and keep stride.

During the school day, students spend three periods a day in class for instruction. They have homework every night and must take periodic exams to master skills.

This course gives the potential business worker a taste of the job climate and in depth information on the business industry. Since this course is offered at CVS through our Business Department, students should take advantage now and seek further studies in college or business prep school after graduation.

Charloff Davis and Tonya Davis concentrate during class.

Coleen Robinson corrects an error

LaShawn Huggins enjoys secretarial practice

Phyllis McClinic, Racine Walls, Jacqueline Speight practice daily

Mrs. Walker examines class work of Natalie Wilson, A. Lewis, R. Cuffie, N. Morton, A. McQueen and V. Jones.

FOODS—LEARNING TO BE A CHEF!

Darlene Sanders and Kendra Peavy stir up a chili dog.

Hors D'Oeuvres are the specialty of Leonard Smith and Sheryl Ross.

Alisa Lewis, Derrick Fisher, Nancy Morton and Leonard Smith enjoy a rib snack.

In the Food Service class at C.V.S., the student learns to plan and prepare a delicious meal. They learn what constitutes an adequate and balanced diet. They learn the basic nutrients such as proteins and vitamins and how they apply to the foods. They learn about important foods for the human body and how to control calories and about a complete and nourishing meal.

Not only do the students learn elementary cooking, but they are supervised in the art of gracious serving. A knowledge of etiquette and experience in planning party menus, buffet decoration, and other benefits are gained in class.

Upon completion of this course, the students are prepared to handle various foods and problems that menus may present.

FOOD SERVICE

Food Service is the study of Commercial preparation and servicing of food in all its aspects; sanitation, safety, nutrition, food production, table service. commercial food service equipment, receiving, storing and issuing of food and supplies

This course provides further development of skills studied in Food I. Upon completing of Food Service, students have solid skills and are eligible to participate in the Cooperative work program—H.E.R.O. (Home Economics Related Occupation) or C.A.F.E. (Chicago Area Food Service Education) These programs give the students experiences in the real world of work

COMMERCIAL ART

Mr. R. Johnson shows Nicole Grove how to add shadow to a sketch.

Sketching from live models is the best way to learn how to draw.

The Commercial Art class taught by Mr. Robert Johnson provides the student with a knowledge of drawing, painting, sculpting, print making and many other techniques related to obtaining a professional career in the art area.

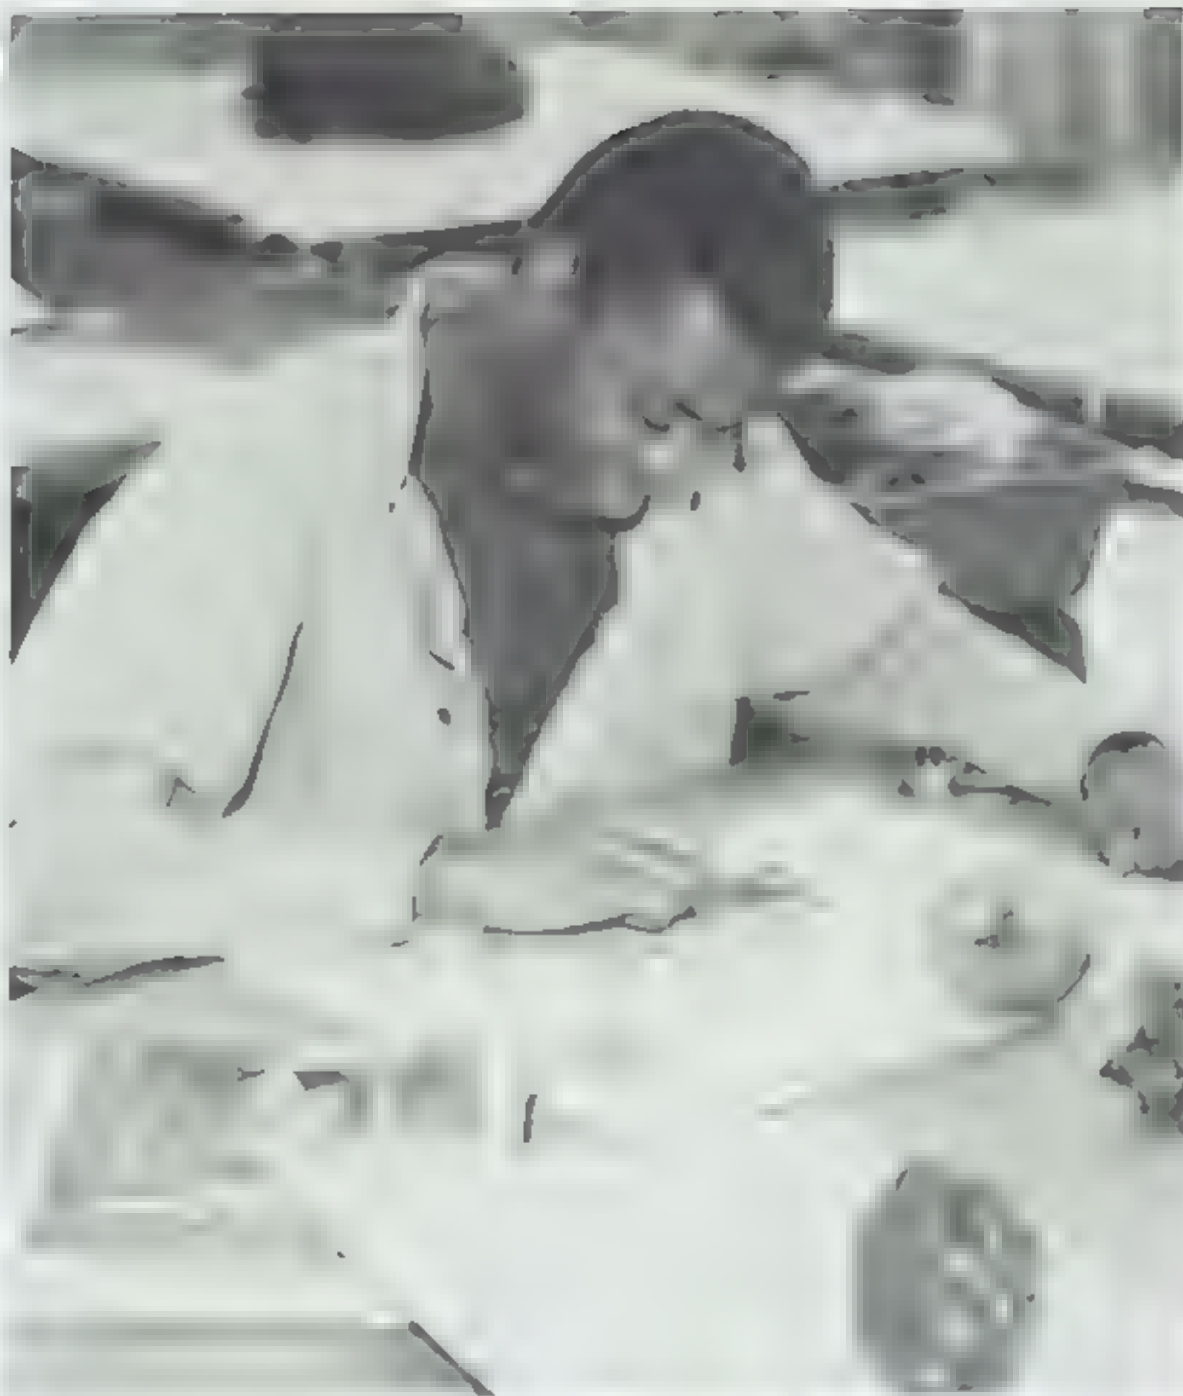

The Commercial Art class at CVS is recognized nationally for its outstanding work. Students enter into competition, win awards and scholarships throughout the country and are placed into job situations many times before they finish college.

After leaving CVS, students are equipped to work at advertising firms such as Proctor and Gardner, Leo Burnett or Butrell Advertising. Some of our students even start their own businesses which is encouraged. Mr. Johnson welcomes juniors who are interested in the Commercial Art area.

The Commercial Art display at the Craftsmen's Fair is dramatic.

HEATING AND AIR CONDITION- ING

A junior class gets started with the basics.

Seniors, John Taylor and Larry Amona check a wiring problem.

John Nelson makes the final connection to repair a condensor

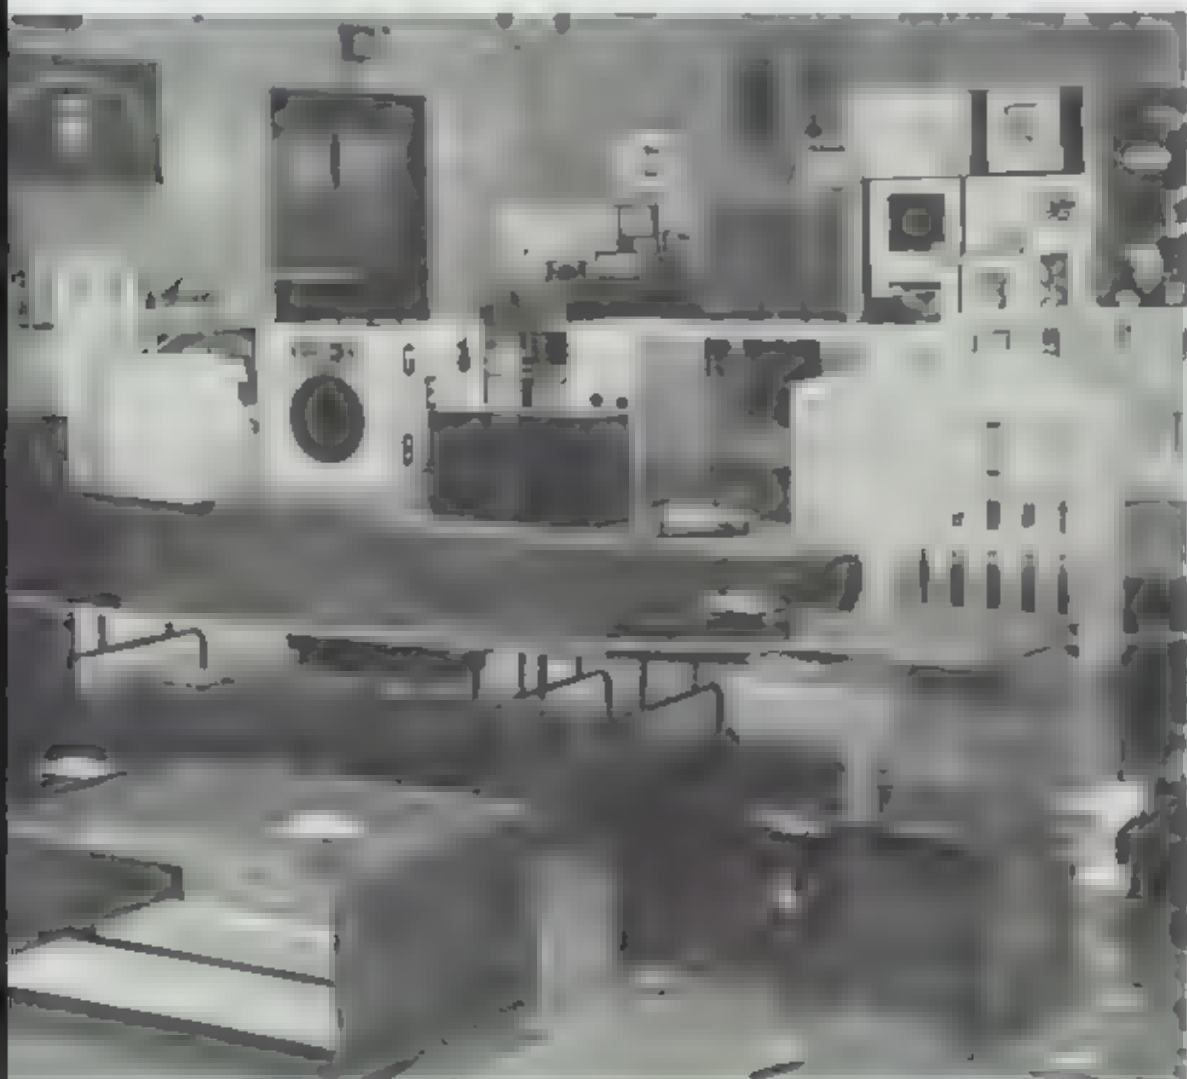

Mr. Schesinger, the instructor for this shop, gives the students on the job training. They work in the shop to create their own systems of heating and ventilating, and air conditioning. They do repairs on refrigerators and furnaces, also. The course is designed to train students in gas, electric, and oil heating systems as well as electrical wiring. With this kind of experience and know-how, these students look forward to apprenticeship positions.

Projects in plastics in the Craftsmen Fair

Opportunities are Transparent

Mr. Echols makes it clear that opportunities are available in the Plastic Industry. Those who major in the shop go to class for four consecutive periods which are divided into note-taking sessions and instructions given to carried out during the last two class periods. Students may work on class projects or long range projects for the Craftsmen Fair and Vocational Fair at the Museum of Science and Industry

Projects of this nature enable students to develop the possibility of becoming trained technicians in the Plastic Industry

VOCAL ACADEMIC MIXED CHORUS

1st Row: L. Straughter, L. Fowlkes, R. Taylor, P. Sutton, S. Jones, S. Walks, S. Satterfield, V. Green, V. Lacy 2nd Row: M. White, L. Jones, S. Wilcoxson, D. Gordon, P. Cooper, L. Terry, A. Letiker, M. Parker, M. Morris, S. Humes, M. Grady, S. Malone, J. Katherine 3rd Row: N. Murray, A. Lucas, C. Moncure, L. Loyd, G. Luster, T. Clay, S. Bates, T. Nash, N. Jones, L. Daniel, P. Walker, J. Taylor

With the Choir backing him, J. Taylor creates a wonderful feeling with his voice.

Lead singers J. Taylor and S. Wilcoxson combine their voices for dynamite

The chorus forms an important part of the Music department. The chorals music is sung in four parts. These are: soprano, alto, tenor, and bass in mixed choruses.

The male students sing first and second tenor and first and second bass parts. First and second soprano and first and second alto are usually sung by the females or sometimes the males.

The Chorus will put on its Spring Concert with C.V.S. Band and Orchestra in May, and perform at the Seniors' Recital and Seniors Graduation.

1984 Marching Band—Mr. Michael Taylor is the instructor

BAND GROWS WITH NEW DIRECTOR

Leola Burns, J. Desnor, D. Gilbert and W. Phillips practice a familiar march Kimberly Crosby, F. Rogers, K. Taylor and D. Gill are accomplished flute players.

Mr. Michael Taylor is the conductor of the band which provides rousing material music at pep assemblies, sounds at graduation and on other formal occasions.

The culmination of the year's work is the Annual Spring Music Festival, an impressive concert of traditionally high quality.

Over the years, the Marching Band has participated in the annual Christmas and Columbus Day parades as well as those held in the community.

The large membership of the Concert Band is an indication of CVS students' awareness of the cultural benefits of an education in music.

VOCODROMICS DEPT.

AUTO MECHANICS

Mr. Dawson shows A. McIntire and W. Hughes the steps to doing a tune-up.

Auto Mechanics prepares students to face the demands of the rapidly changing automotive industry. In Auto Mechanics, students learn to repair faulty transmissions, replace spark plugs, points and condenser, distributor caps, brakes and align front wheels. They are taught how to check oil level, antifreeze condition, emission controls, windshield washers, belt condition, and tire pressure.

Students, sixteen years of age, may enter a program in which they work as service station attendants on a half day basis, earning shop credit, wages and valuable work experience.

Job security and opportunity for advancement awaits students who choose a career in Automotive Service.

Thaydra Coleman and Alfie McIntyre check a distributor cap with Mr. Dawson.

Checking spark plugs is the main business of Steve McQueen, Julian Brown, and William Stewart.

AUTO BODY

Bryant Kirksey prepares a Buick for a paint job

Kevin Porter and Michael Medcalf tape and sand the surface of a car

Students are encouraged to learn the patience needed for the time consuming procedures of car body repairing. Auto Body and Fender trains students in removing and replacing fenders, pounding out dents, sanding, repairing windows, doors, and panels. Detailed car painting is also a feature of this shop.

With the growing need of renovated cars, rewarding careers are available for young men with mechanical aptitude and a sound technical background.

AVIATION— SUPER FLIGHT

Aviation is divided into two classes—the Powerplant and the Airframe. The Powerplant class starts in the student's junior year and the Airframe class as a continued class for the seniors.

During the junior year, students disassemble, clean, and restore the engine of a lawn mower. They then learn the working and functions of a Volkswagen engine by disassembling it and putting it together again. After the student gets the engine running, he earns his grade. The last project of the student's junior year is his own choice. He can choose a Jet Engine, a Continental, or a Lycoming.

The seniors work on carburetors, distributors, magnetos, and many other projects.

Basically, aviation is working and studying the details of aircrafts. Without aviation, society could not have the means of transportation of aircraft. Airplanes help the world in many ways, especially now in distributing food and supplies to countries that are in dire need.

This class promotes excellence in competitive situations and encourages individuals to achieve aviation skills and personal development. Upon completions of the course, students are issued structure or mechanic licenses. Mr. Dorgan is the instructor.

Patrick Vaughn starts the helicopter while Mr. Dorgan and Leonard Brinson observe.

Mr. Milton shows Gregory Foreman, Lester Brown, Raymond Mitchell and Vincent Logan essentials to airplane engines.

ARCHITECTURAL DRAFTING

The Architectural Drafting Shop has gained recognition through the many awards won. Projects entered in the competition at the Museum of Science and Industry usually take top prizes. Mr. Geenan, the instructor, requires each of his students to enter a project in the Craftmen's Fair and seniors are also required to make a model in order to pass the class. The students in this shop gain knowledge and skills that are necessary for tradesmen, such as carpenters, electricians, mason men, plasters, or plumbers.

Chris Grant and Curtis Hinkle watch with Sherwin Clark watch a wall go up.

Adriene LeNor concentrates hard while Chris Grant gives pointers.

CARPENTRY— CABINETMAKING

Students learn the art and science of carpentry and cabinetmaking. They use hand and power tool operations. Woodshop gives students the opportunity to construct furniture and buildings while gaining invaluable experience in cabinet making and carpentry.

"Quote"

For some students, a life-time hobby in woodcraft begins at C.V.S. For others who are interested in a career in cabinet making and who are willing to persevere in the pursuit of excellence, an apprenticeship with a major company such as Motorola and Zenith is the reward.

Special awards are given for the beautiful and perfected pieces of furniture displayed each year at the Craftsman Fair. Some students even sell their projects after being asked by faculty members repeatedly.

NURSING A WAY TO HELP HUMANITY

The nursing program requires the student to complete two years of intensive studying clinical and theoretical nursing at an assigned hospital. The curriculum includes training nursing, taking care of the sick, learning body structure and functions, common diseases, and other related materials, all of which is taught by professional nurse teachers

Historically, the nurse has served as a form of monitor and reported to the physicians. Now monitoring equipment and other automated equipment perform a lot of the nurse's former duties. Automated equipment can provide information which will permit a greater dept of patient care. This information has made the relationship between the doctor and nurse closer rather than distract from the nurse's role

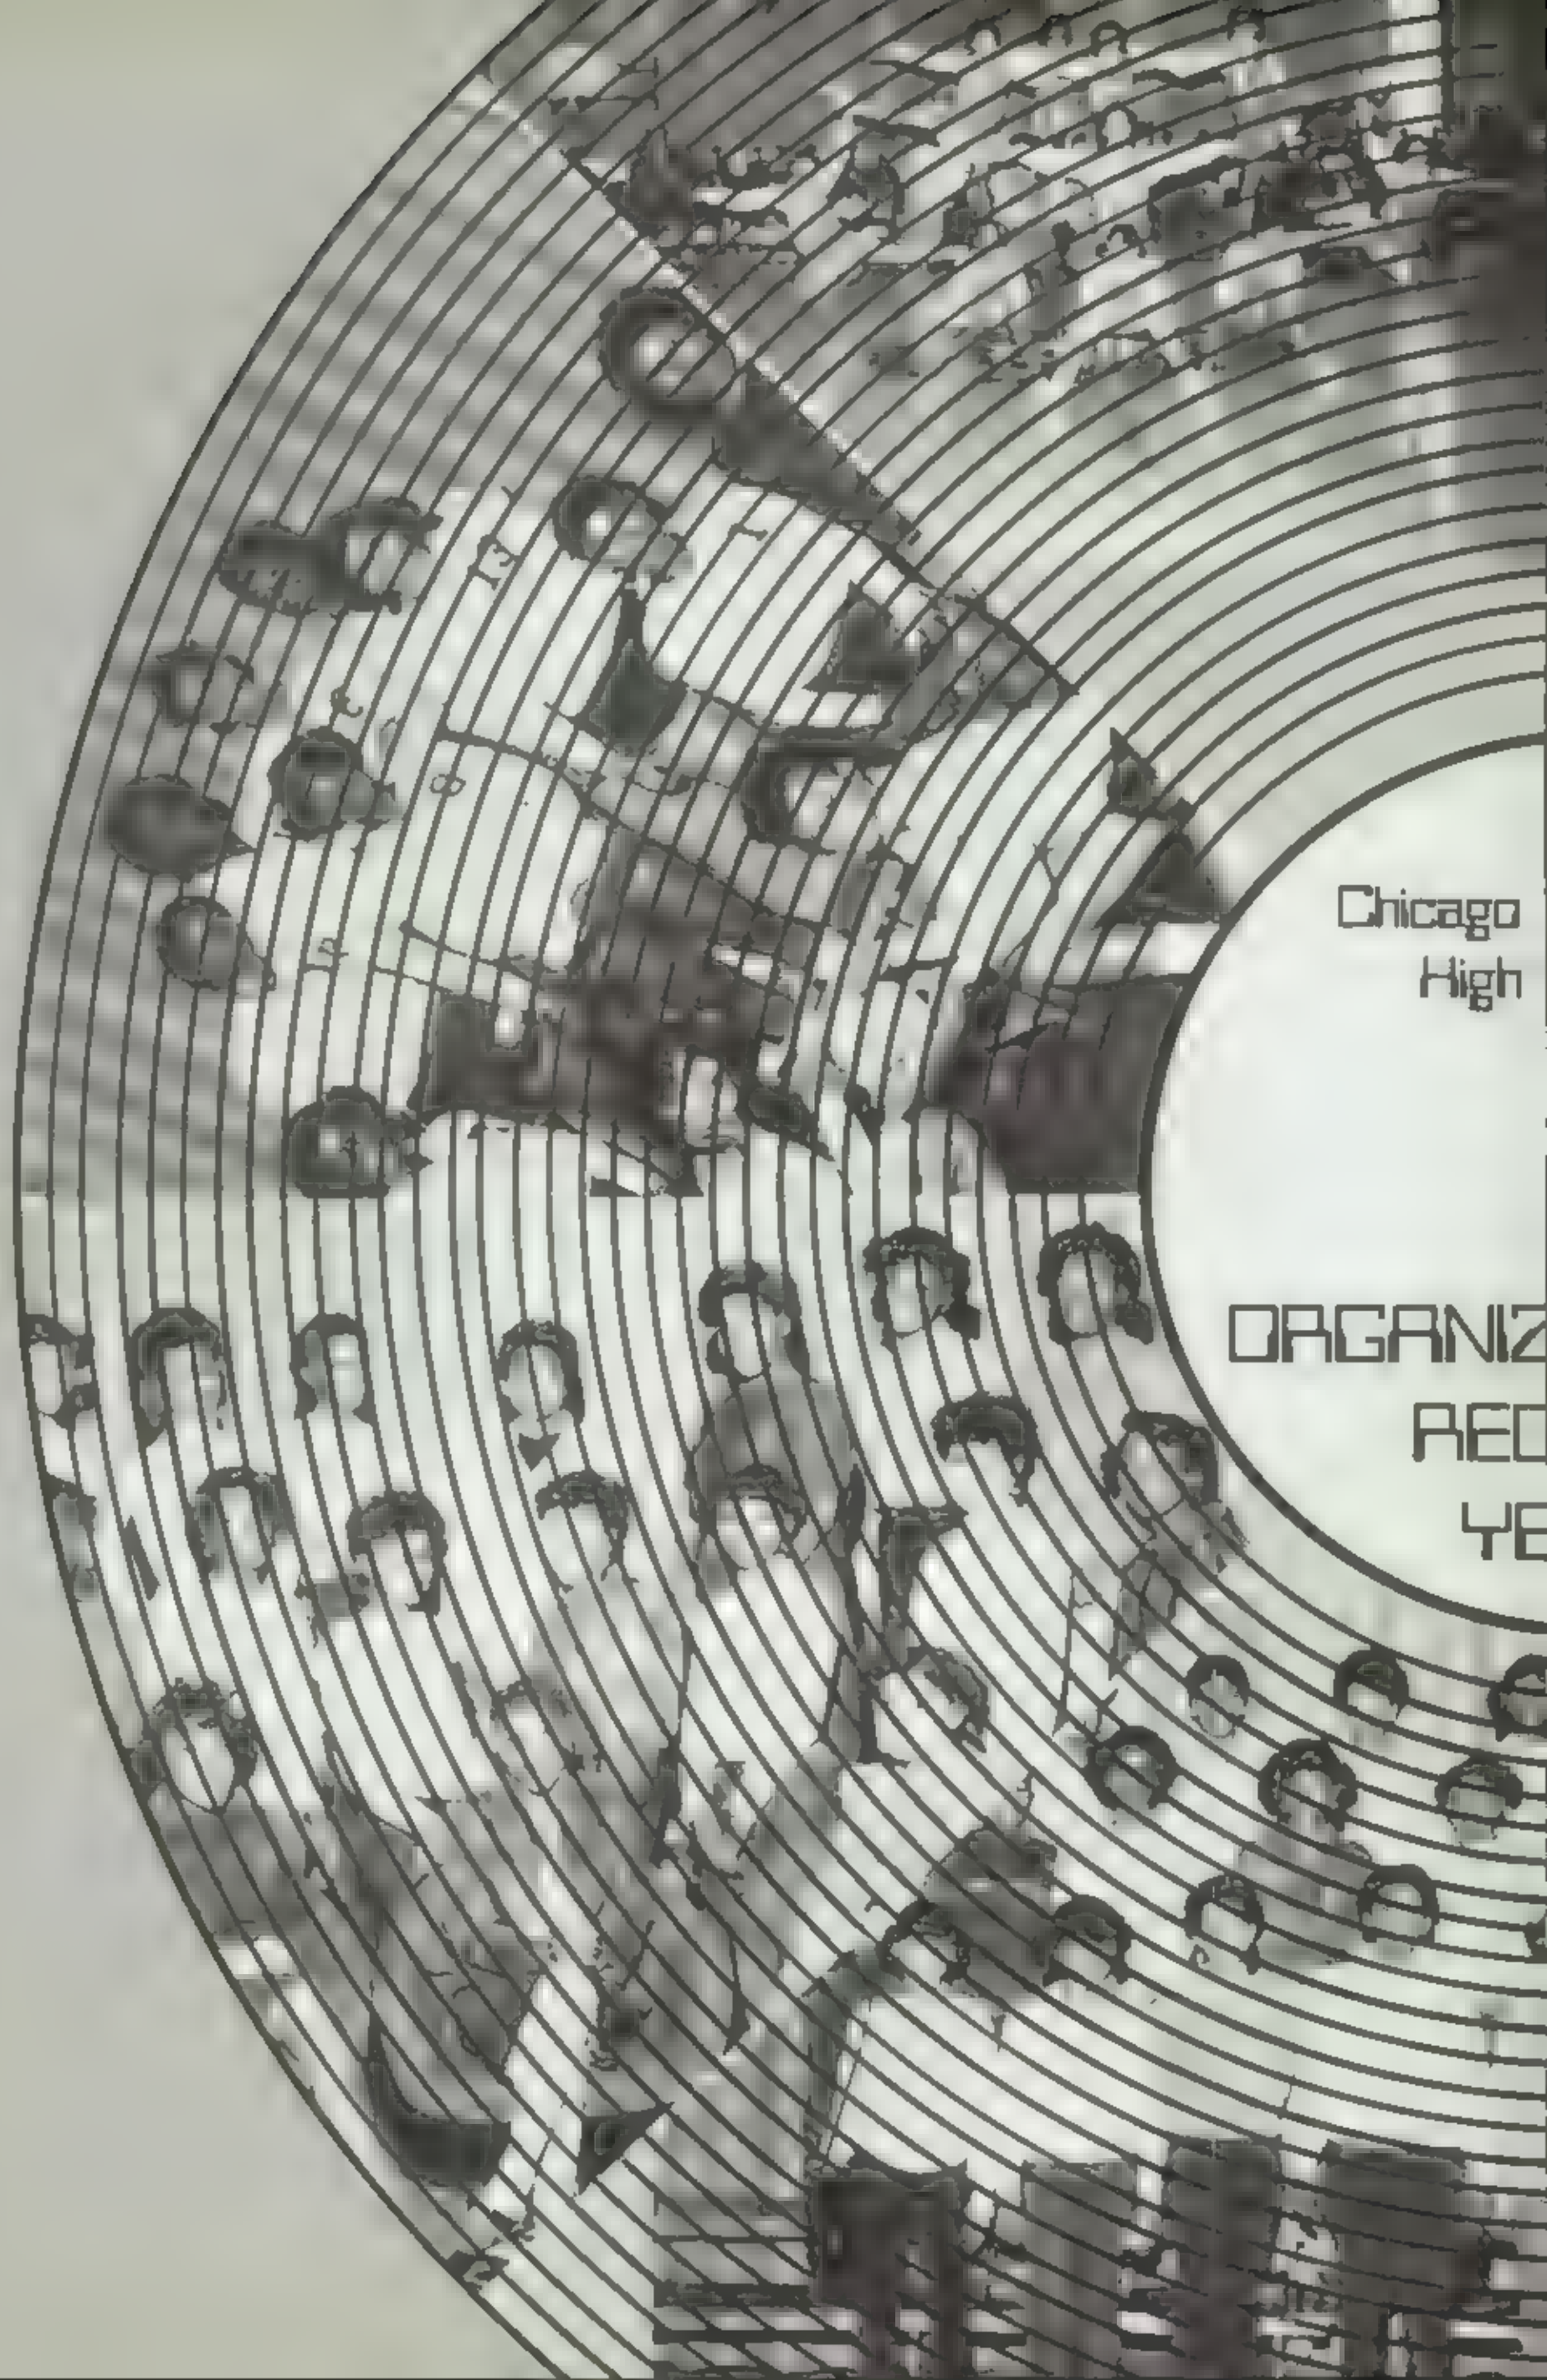

Pre-requisite for the nursing program is one semester of home economics, food, nutrition, or child care

Upon graduation, students receive a certificate and become licensed practical nurses (LPN) Mrs. Myrtle Ivy is the sponsor

The chants of the vivacious Cavalier Cheerleaders boost the spirit of the team and the people in the stand. The lively shouts of acclamation and joy from this enthusiastic group put the football team in a winning mood or give hope to the basketball players. Exciting the spectators to energetic support of the team, the cheerleaders keep the morale high during the games. Their fervor isn't diminished by a low score or temperature. They typify the true VCS spirit as they lead the fans in vociferous shouts for a Cavalier victory. Ms. S. Jones is the squad's new sponsor and their captains are Tonia Veal and Lenette Hood.

MAJORETTE POM-PON

MAJORETTES

C.V.S. Majorettes are a hard act to follow. They have received 1st place in competitions for the last four years. Captain, Audrey McFadden and co-captain, Phyllis Washington, lead this very talented performing squad. They perform at half-time during basketball and football games, assemblies, parades and competitions.

This squad can be found perfecting their techniques daily, during tenth and eleventh periods. See Ms. Sterling, the sponsor, about joining this glittering squad.

POM-PON SQUAD IS BETTER THAN EVER

This squad has a maximum of twenty young ladies who dance with huge blue and gold pom-poms during the basketball season. These beautiful young ladies perform with gold and blue flags during football season, along with the marching band, majorettes, and flag & rifle squad.

They practice daily and the practices are very arduous. After observing their performances, it is evident that these practices pay off. In order to join this remarkable group, see Ms. Sterling, the sponsor, the captain, Yolanda Woods, or co-captain, Larita Jenkins.

CAVALIERS DANCILIERS

Brigette Garty, Belinda Hudson, Melissa Moore, Edina Ziegler, Alissa Walden, Capt., Kimberly Paul

The squad's motto is, "We make the squad, the squad doesn't make itself." The captain, Bridgette Garth and co-captain, Kimberly Paul, firmly believe in the motto and work hard with the other members to put on a grand act during basketball and football seasons.

The band practices with the band and many times Pom Pom. They accent the marching band and add flavor to any event in school on stage.

MODERN DANCE

1st Row: Julie Brazil, Adrenne Turner 2nd Row: Sabrina Stevenson, Janis Akins, Deon Sutherland, Veronica Butler Row 3: Anita Hunt, Jane Katherine, Millisa Loudon, Capt., Kimberly Caston, Not pic

The Danciliers have been united together and as a whole team, they have come a long way together. The team's recently been together since 1983 and they've made it to the top. The Danciliers originate ideas from various types of shows such as "Fame." They prepare most of their steps themselves and it looks perfected. The Danciliers do many things throughout the school such as talent shows, freshman orientation, and many other activities. Tryouts go on at the end of the year and they perform at different places over the summer. To get on the team you must maintain a "C average." The team sponsor is Ms. Jenkins.

PEP CLUB

Pep Club

How do you spell relief? S-P-I-R-I-T! Spirit is exactly what describes the CVS Pep Club. All athletic teams need some sort of motivation to give them a positive attitude along with the crowd. This is the reason for the CVS Pep Club. The main function of the Pep Club is to raise the spirit of the school. The Pep Club cheers at basketball and football games and pep assemblies.

Whether a win or a loss the optimistic Cavalier family never lose hope... or that famous Cavalier spirit.

Tumblers

A few fine men or women that's what they are looking for. They tumble with grace and accuracy. The human body can do what you tell it to, so the tumblers do it. These students are self-motivated to perform at games and on special occasions. They were without a sponsor last year but they secured one this year. Practice and agility are necessary to become a good tumbler.

An offshoot from tumbling, break dancing, shows the world that many people can train themselves to be good.

We all salute the tumblers and want them to continue making our games cheerful.

O.E.A.

Office Education Advisory Club provides an opportunity for students to begin building a solid career foundation. The career foundation can be solidly developed by having a good job performance record and a high level of personal qualifications and abilities such as honesty, loyalty, conscientiousness, courtesy, enthusiasm and a good personal appearance. This foundation can also be enhanced by striving to perform the job assignments at a highly satisfactory standard.

Students spend two class periods daily at school in the O.E.A. class enhancing their business skills, before going to their jobs that are suitably assigned to them. The members also compete in contests on the local, state, and national levels.

O.O.

The Office Occupations Club stems from the O.O. Program and its purpose is to demonstrate occupational competencies, because some of the graduates go on to further education and excellent positions. The members meet every Tuesday to develop knowledge, improve skills and attitude, and groom for national competition. CVS students have competed and won awards that advanced them to national competition. They also sponsor fund-raising events to support their end-of-the-year banquet and their national convention. Mrs. Rose is the club's new sponsor and Gale Jones the president; Bridget Davis and Selina Stokes, the Vice Presidents; Helen Johnson, the Secretary, and Kelly Martin, the Sgt. at Arms.

TECHNICIAN STAFF

TECHNICIAN STAFF

Members of the Technician Staff produce the year-book. Staff members are grouped according to their duties but each member usually has knowledge of all operations for production.

The editors are leaders and take an active role in their particular area such as typing, underclass, senior, index, activities, copy and layout. Under the direction of the Sponsor, Mrs. Vance and the Co-Sponsor Mrs. Jones, staff members are able to collect information, write copy and give directions to the publisher, Intercollegiate Press.

The Technician Staff usually has two or three student photographers who fill the gaps when Root Photographers are not around. Lloyd Robinson and Marilyn Davey are the two for this year. Sheri Gladney has contributed many fine photographs this year.

Seated: Marilyn Davey, T. Muldrew, C. Cater, R. Brown, R. Bowman, S. Scott. Row 1: Mrs. F. Vance, B. Braxton, R. Lipscomb, P. Samuel, R. Williams, D. Pendleton, Mrs. R. Jones. Row 2: K. Peavy, C. Owens, K. Purcell, K. Clay, J. Thomas, D. Sanders.

Staff members work during the summer for orientation of underclassmen and attend workshops. Students are encouraged to have four yearbooks during their high school career and to cherish each event that will be fond memories. After the workshops, the yearbook is entered into one or two contests to compete with schools throughout Illinois. Northern Illinois University, DeKalb usually sponsors this event. The Technician usually has several awards in different categories. Last year during a teaching session at the University, slides were made of the Technician to be shown to the entire audience of four hundred representatives. We are proud of the Technician and our hard working staff.

Peer Supervision is a group organized to help maintain better standards of the school and to maintain control in the hallways. Recognition, good attendance, and high standards modify the peer supervision. To become a member, the student must maintain a "C" grade average, have good attendance, a good attitude, and have no disciplinary record.

With the help and cooperation of their sponsor, faculty, and students, the peer supervisors help CVS maintain a conducive atmosphere.

TRADEMASTER SEATED: D. Smith, D. Williams, J. Wilburn, S. Green. ROW 1: K. Thompson, J. Trice, S. Redmond, L. Fort, P. Harrington, S. Daniels, S. Reed, B. Garth, M. Davey. ROW 2: K. White, R. Oliver, K. Mace, C. Alexander, C. Robinson, I. McClure, C. Sims, T. Muldrow, A. LeNor.

Being on the Cavalier scene for exciting news stories is all part of being a Trademaster reporter. The dedicated and hard working staff covers school affairs ranging from fundraisers to sporting events. The staff also features up-to-date information on colleges. The Trademaster has not missed printing a single monthly issue since 1982. Mr. McGrath, the sponsor, says the Trademaster will expand its size and coverage. By being a part of the journalism department, students have a better chance of receiving journalism scholarships. Two Trademaster members received scholarships through the National Journalism Workshop. Two have gone on to become Editors of New Expression newspaper, while still in high school. Colleen Robinson also became a reporter for a national student magazine called Teen Aged. The Cavalier Trademaster is on the move. Give them a good story idea, but also give them a hand.

GRAPHIC ARTS CLUB

Graphic Arts is Communications with anything visually seen. Such messages are made permanent. The work is separated into two kinds of printing: one is Letterpress printing, which is printing from type. The second is Offset Lithography, which is printing done from metal plates.

The department has much computerized equipment all of which the students learn to use, when printing many of the things that the things uses, such as the tardy and cut slips, identification cards, tickets and the Trademaster.

To acquaint the students to the opportunities open to them, Mr. Lahori formed the Graphic Arts Club about four years ago to expose the students to trade by going on field trips.

STAGE CREW

AVIATION

STAGE CREW SEATED: A. Tighe, L. O'Connor, K. Mace, C. Fears, L. Carter, C. Woulard, BACK ROW: L. Robinson, Jr.

The main purpose of the Stage Crew is to set the scenes or stage equipment for all of the school's performances. Students are trained to handle the lighting and all the machinery needed to set up the stage. They know which lights and when to dim or increase lumination and they also know how to operate the amplifiers. The work of the Stage Crew plays a great part in whether a special event in the auditorium is a success or a failure. After many years under the sponsorship of Mr. Burton, the crew has a new sponsor. Mr. Ferguson has become the new sponsor of the Stage Crew because of his extensive experiences. So when a microphone doesn't work ask the stage crew to handle it.

ICE

The Industrial Cooperative Education program sets goals for seniors only. The program tries to develop in each student a good job performance record, high level of personal qualities such as enthusiasm, courtesy, conscientiousness, honesty, loyalty and a good personal appearance. After students have been placed on jobs in their vocational majors and have mastered the above qualities, they are well on their way to building a solid career foundation.

Mr. Erling is the sponsor of this work-study program.

CWT

Cooperative Work Training programs, sponsored by Mr. L. Lynn, provide students a chance to earn academic credit while receiving on the job training. This group meets every day at the fourth period and at division to discuss job problems and for the sponsor to check on their progress. The students are elated when established graduates come back and recruit CWT members for new job positions.

The highlight for CWT members comes at the end of the school year when employees and employers come together for a luncheon that awards their successes.

HERO

Home Economics Related Occupations (HERO) is a cooperative educational program designed to prepare students for entering occupations that are related to Home Economics.

The purpose of the organization is to provide activities which encourage youth to reach out and touch the lives of others and become involved in leadership and decision making. HERO involves the community and business organizations as a resource and viable link in the preparation of young men and women for employment. The organization permits the students to gain entry level skills under the supervision of participating organizations.

RED CROSS CLUB

The Red Cross Club and its sponsor, Mrs. Begley, received the Outstanding Cooperation Award for their support of the American Red Cross Mid-America Region Blood Services. Kimberly Lane accepted this prestigious award at the annual recognition ceremony at the Daley Center, on May 6, 1984. The outstanding award is presented by Red Cross to its donors based on various degrees of achievement in meeting blood drive goals, recruiting type-specific donors, recruiting 10% new donors, and referring a new blood donor group to the Red Cross.

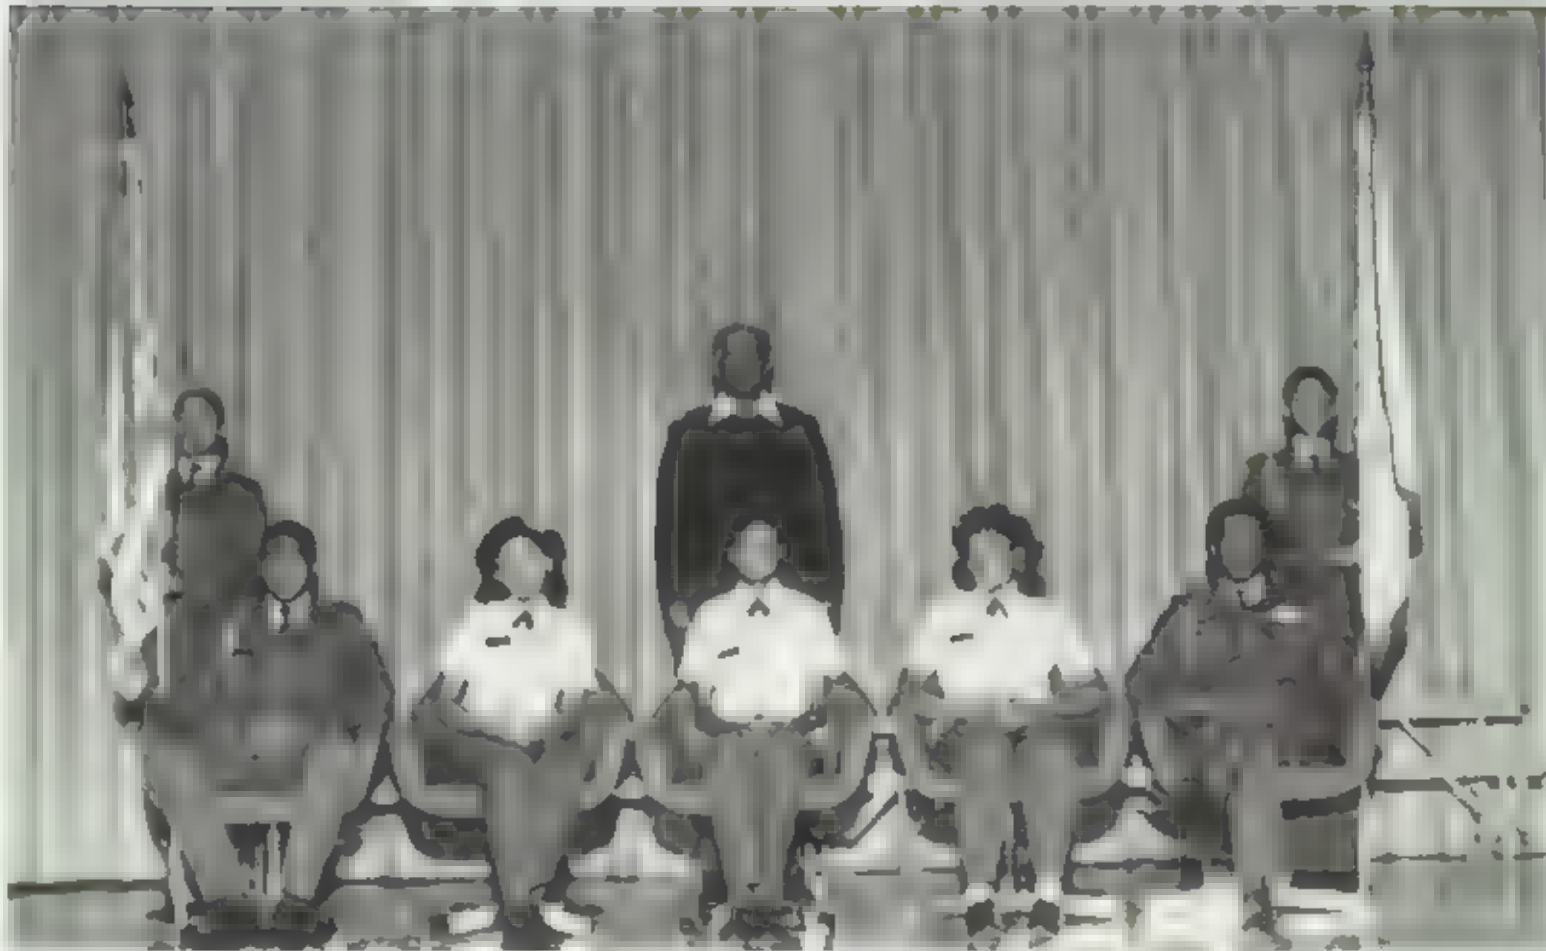

In addition to the Annual Blood Donor Program, the club sponsors the Christmas Stocking Project in December and co-sponsors the Health Fair in the spring.

R.O.T.C.

The Reserve Officers Training Corps, a course in military science, provides meaningful military training of benefit to the student and of value to the Department of the Army. Each student gains a knowledge of military skills and an appreciation of the role of the United States Army. The student develops self-reliance, qualities of leadership, and responsiveness to constituted authority.

R O T C, which can be taken in the place of gym, sponsors the Honor Guard, Rifle Team, Color Guard, Drill Platoon, the NCO Officers, and the Drum and Bugle Corps. In the Drill Platoon, the cadet learns the manual of arms and how to march correctly. During 1984-85 school year, the Drill Platoon placed fourth in city competition. Two members of CVS ROTC are on the City Corps Staff for 1985.

Seated: M. Sanders, L. Sam, S. Daniels, C. Robinson, L. Carter, J. Myles, and A. Washington, Standing.

Once a week, a meeting is held for the officers and NCO daily at 7:00am. The class practices for DAI, AFI, Color Guard, Drill Platoon, and Drum and Bugle. The cadets' reward for the long hours put in learning the military discipline is the traditional Military Ball in December. Sgt. L. Smith and Master Sgt. Done are proud of their group at CVS.

Mrs. Czaja, the sponsor of the Drama Club tries to interest the students in taking Drama. The cause objective is to expand the student's ability to communicate physically as well as verbally in all situations

The course follows the same structure of an English III course. This includes essay writing, grammar, the study of Macbeth and the analysis of all forms of literature. It incorporates the basic elements to personal responses: recall, imagination and the self control of emotions and vocal responses based on the understanding of all aspects of the environment. The course begins with the movements which are instinctive to man and relates them to the school and job advancement in regards to interaction with others

All students in the Drama class will be required to participate in a one act play, scenic design, announcing, make-up, application, lighting, costume designing or puppetry to give students the opportunity to experience techniques through group work and expand his or her job market skills

An "Academy" Awards Banquet culminates the year

SENIOR HALL GUARDS NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

HALL GUARDS

Cavalier Hall Guards are chosen from the members of the National Honor Society and the National Beta Clubs. They are supervised by Mrs. Richardson and are checked by the administrative sponsor Mr. Arburtha. They have designated post in the building to keep lockers secure, unnecessary passage in the corridors, and general school order. Both girls and boys serve on this highly respected duty. Students and faculty regard the new hall guards as a great help to school harmony and gives the seniors a sense of responsibility to their school. The entire student body will become aware of their presence after this first year of operation. They give a great service to the school.

GYM AIDES

LIBRARY AIDES

Without Library Aides many people would feel the crunch. They support the librarians and help keep the flow of traffic in the library at a constant pace. They help prepare books for distribution and collect them. Ms. Mitchell says many times she's happy to have them. Many of the aides have been trained to help students find specific books or material related to their lessons.

TEACHERS AIDES COUNSELORS AIDES

Teacher Aides

This is the first year we have featured the teacher aides. This group is very large because each teacher in the school could have an aide. The number is somewhere near one hundred. These students help with record keeping, grading papers, designing bulletin boards and running errands. They are invaluable to teachers and should be commended for their dedication. They must give up either their lunch period or a study in order to volunteer. Ask your favorite teacher if you can be his aide.

NATIONAL BETA CLUB

The National Beta Club sponsored by Mrs. Richardson, recognizes high school students who have displayed leadership abilities, personal integrity, academic achievement, and a demonstrated willingness to serve one's fellow citizens.

The National Beta Club contributes to the senior citizens, Handicapped and to the minority scholarships with funds raised from the sales of Kiwanis peanuts. On Lar Rabids Day, the club volunteers, services and takes food, etc. to the hospital.

Candy sales and First Aid kits sale defray the expenses of the fall and spring inductions and the state and national conventions. During the conventions, national officers are elected. At the 1984 Springfield convention, Arletha Scott of CVS was elected the national secretary.

At the local level chapters, CVS other officers are: pres. — Carmen Mason, V. pres — Douglas Dean, sec — Phyllis Harrington, tres. — Cynthia Mitchell, Sgt-at-arms — James Glenn.

Fall and spring inductions are held for those interested students who have a 2.85 or better grade point average.

TEEN'S FASHION CLUB

THE MATH CLUB

The Teens Fashion Club was formed as an outgrowth of the clothing program at CVS to give students social, cultural, and economic experiences.

The club provides personal development, leadership opportunities and enriched experiences for students interested in fashion careers. Mrs. Preacely, the sponsor, takes the members to visit schools of fashion design and tours of the garment districts. They also put on fashion shows depicting the history of fashion.

The officers are President Erika Sharp, Vice Pres., Tonia Williams, Secretary, Tanya Williams, Cor. Sec. Yvette Reeves and Treasurer Jackie Taylor.

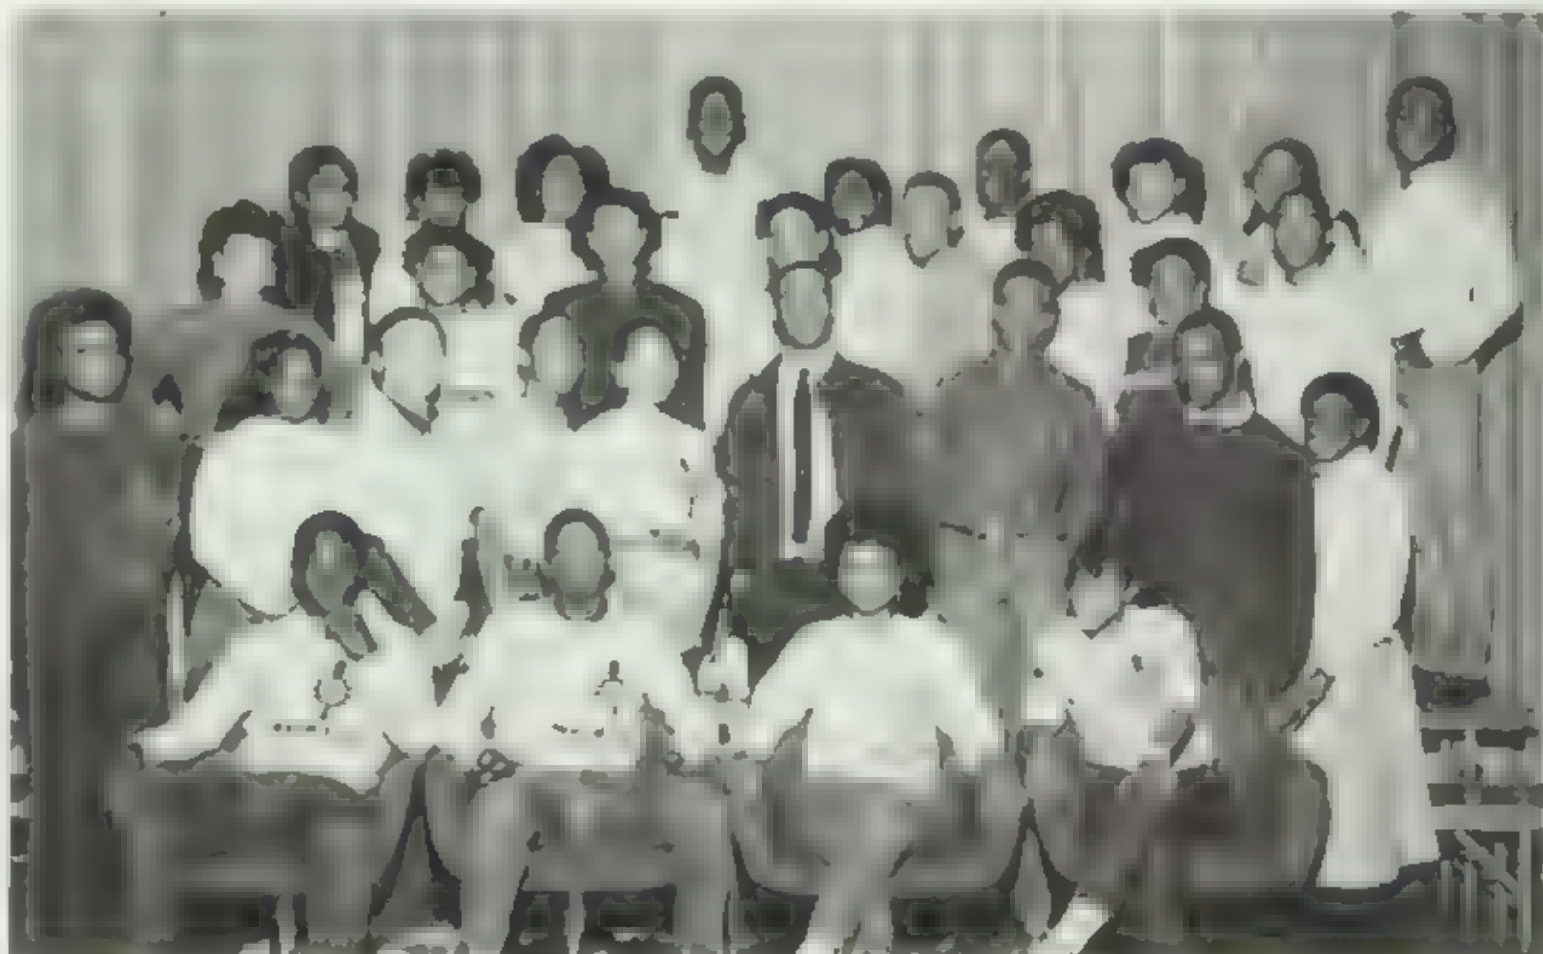

TEENS FASHION CLUB: Carla Norton, Denise Stanford, Melissa Hall, Tanya Williams, Melissa Loudon, Mrs. Preacely, Rochelle Hambrick, Kenya Vance, Tonisha Manning, Roderick Sims, Ericka Sharp, Valerie Williams

Since March 1983, members of the Math Club have been participating in city-wide high school contests under the sponsorship of Mrs. Bethel. The contest is sponsored by the Illinois Council of Teachers of Mathematics who recognize and award students in the different categories of the Math Club. Robert Smith, a senior and president of the Math Club, represents CVS in the 1984 State Finals.

The purpose of the Math Club are: 1. To instill a deeper interest in math, 2. To provide tutoring for those students who are having difficulties, and 3. To participate in city-wide math contests.

MATH COUNTS is another commitment of the Math Club. This program is a cooperative program of Chicago Board of Education, Chicago Urban League, and the CNA Insurance Company. Under this program, members of the CVS Math Club participate in tutoring sessions held at Chicago State University on a weekly basis. The MATH COUNTS program also monitors the District 19 Math Counts Contests for elementary schools.

TICKET SELLERS

C.A.B.

Ticket Sellers

The students who sell tickets for student activities were selected based on teachers' recommendation. Prior to an activity, these students arrive at C.V.S. between 7:00-7:30 a.m. to sell tickets. They also gave up their lunch periods for this purpose. The group is composed primarily of Seniors and juniors, but there are few sophomores.

C.A.B.

C.A.B. was organized in 1982 when they were sophomores. Cheryl, Angie and Bridget were good friends and decided to stay that way. When they decided to come up with a name that would represent friendship, the first letters of each name was perfect. They made their debut at the Sweetheart Dance that year wearing shirts with C.A.B. and a taxi cab on the back. Since then, C.A.B. has performed in talent shows and other events in school. They are known for break dancing and funny language. C.A.B. never grew into a larger organization because of the three letter three friends association.

SENIOR ADVISORY COUNCIL

THE '86 ADVISORY COUNCIL

Under the direction and advice of the Senior Advisory Council, this year's Senior Class has enjoyed a variety of events that are unusual for the school. They have planned trips to Orlando, Florida, Cruises, parties, balls and Bar-B-Ques. The council meets once a month to discuss activities and ways to improve the senior class and life on campus. Mr. Arburtha meets with them at 7:15 a.m. and at other times when necessary. Senior hal guards were planned and discussed at one of their meetings. This group of students have done a great job this year.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The C.V.S. Student Council serves as the principal link between the administration and the student body. The membership is represented by two individuals from each division—a delegate and an alternate. This organization tries to be a viable source for the problem-solving of the student body. The Student Council is serviceable to others as well as the Cavaliers. The members visit nursing homes, deliver food for the needy at Christmas and Easter and other community work. They have fund raising activities to sponsor the Student Council/Faculty Breakfast and the Civic Awards Assembly at the end of the school year. They sponsor the Student/Teacher Turn-About Day and Co-Sponsor the Black History Events in February each year.

Ms. McCriston and Mrs. Montgomery are the sponsors for the Student Council. The officers are Robert Jones, President, Roshawn Hughley, Vice President, Diane Mitchell, Recording Secretary, Edina Ziegler, Corresponding Secretary, and Juanita Wilburn, Treasurer.

PAPER DOLLS

This is a success story of a group of young men and women growing up in a complex society and trying to cope with it. They have shown us how teen-agers can get along with each other, have fun and not get angry. Violence and fighting has not been a part of their lives. They show friendliness and happiness wherever they go. The amazing part of this story is that it is functioning without adult supervision and overseeing.

Members: Glen Williams, Linda McGowan, Otis Wells, Terek Jones, Stanley Jones, Terrance Thomas, Michael Braxton, Vicki Moore, Joe McGlee, Deon Tate. This organization was started in 1984 by Derrick Sanders. They now have seventeen members.

WRECKIN' CREW

THE LINEN GIRLS

WRECKING CREW

The Wrecking Crew are members of the football team who are tough and know it. They are the ones who go into the game a crush, pull and push. They wore their football jerseys to special events in the school including dances and parties. They are responsible young men who set an example for the entire student body. A forerunner of this group was the Lettermen's Club. The Lettermen disbanded and the Wrecking Crew has taken up the slack.

ENGLISH FAIR

Castles with meats, figures of Odysseus, Ulysses and other mythical characters, Shakespearean theatre, characters of Macbeth, Lady Macbeth, Hamlet, Julius Caesar. Scenes of modern plays, students written poems, short stories and essays, dolls dressed in clothing of different periods and even a French cafe serving real French food are only a few of the many exhibitions displayed at the English Fair.

Students culminate the study of their particulars with projects to be entered in the English Fair. These projects are judged and given prizes. The making of these projects gives the students an in depth understanding of their required studies and a better appreciation of literature. Keep up the good work.

Science Fair

The Science Fair presents the students an opportunity to explore and develop scientific knowledge for positions in the science industries and for scholarship awards to colleges.

First, projects are displayed at CVS. Winners then are moved on to the district level and winners of the district go to the city competition.

Students are judged on oral presentations as well as the laboratory displays. It is necessary for them to understand why and what they have made. The scientists are our minds of the future.

SCIENCE FAIR—6 WINNERS

Through the C.V.S. Science Fair, students are able to broaden their knowledge and display their skills and understanding of new technology.

Under the auspices of Ms. Campanella, Mrs. Campbell, and Mrs. West, the students work on their individual projects. These students have earned honors at district and city levels.

These are the Science Fair Winners who represented CVS at the South Region District Science Fair at Chicago State on February 7th and 8th.

Local Award	Div	Name	Project	Sponsor
1st		Samuel Chambers	Can the world go Solar?	Purham
Outstanding	835	Crystal Patterson	Are you MM, MN, or NN?	West
1st	805	Nattie Gibbs	Have You Had Your Protein Today?	West
1st	833	Shanlova Easley	Canned Food & Corrosion	West
1st	828	Lanora Dabner	Chemical Energy to Electrical Energy	White

HISTORY FAIR

The annual History Fair displays the students' special projects on the theme of "Chicago's Triumphs and Tragedies." Written research drawings on poster boards, and models all depict Chicago's history. Chicago's famous museums, such as the Field Museum of Natural History, Museum of Science and Industry, Shedd Aquarium, and Art Institute lends great support for the students projects. The Chicago Fair, Al Capone, Transportation, future studies, and famous Black Americans in the Chicago areas are also favorite subjects for projects.

The projects are judged school-wide, district and city-wide. Students received monetary awards at the city level.

Health Fair Shapes Up Cavaliers

The 1984 CVS Health Fair was a success thanks to the many volunteers who participated. This fair, sponsored by the Physical Education Department, was designed to give the student of CVS a free minimum examination. These examinations were administered by other students and some faculty members who were all trained on how to use the equipment.

The fair was held in the big gym for one full day. The participants who performed the tests were trained thoroughly on how to read the results and explain to the examinee. Various tests were administered such as blood pressure and blood type, vision, hearing, height and weight, sickle cell anemia and counseling. Literature on various diseases and proper nutrition was also distributed to make students more knowledgeable about the prevention of these diseases.

Greek Architecture was one of the winning exhibits by Tennelle Hood.

Displaying the material was a part of the assignment.

COLLEGE DAY

Cavaliers Anticipate College Day

The experience for students to talk to different representatives from colleges throughout the state and outside of the state was beneficial. The Cavaliers are anticipating prosperous professions, and the College Day made choosing their profession a little more enjoyable. Seniors had the opportunity to visit with the college representative of their choices and gather information on careers, scholarships, financial aid, and other pertinent information which made College Day for the Class of '85 an enormous success.

What's missing from this picture?

The answer is the father. And he's also missing in over 30% of the Black families in the nation. Family unity means strength and that's hard to do if the family head isn't there.

That's why it's so important for today's family to stay together. This way, the goals of Black families can become reality. And if you don't think family unity is something we all need — picture a world without it.

"PALACE" PREPARES FAMILY FOR THE FUTURE

C.V.S. High School or "The Palace", as the school has been dubbed, is one big family. The family is the oldest human institution and in many ways, it is the most important. "The Palace", as a family has the responsibility of providing the protection and early training of productive human beings. The family sets up divisions of labor so that each member contributes something to the smooth-running of "The Palace". It is necessary that each person is accountable for his share of the operation of a loving family. "The Palace" expects each member of its family to respect and help each other in learning to live in the real world. The students know that the administrators, faculty, and staff care for their well-being as they gradually assume responsibilities and become responsible young adults.

This Yearbook is for you, our family!

"THE YEAR OF THE FAMILY"

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

This year, "The Year of the Family," provides a most appropriate theme for the Class of 1985. During the past four years lives have become so interwoven, pains and pleasures shared, the vicissitudes of growth from Freshman to Graduate have inextricably bound us.

Family ties woven with threads of friendship, love, caring and security, form the very foundation of the human social order. We feel similar ties to the class of 1985, and will always remember each of you as family.

As you continue life's pursuits you must always do so in a manner that will reflect credit to your family, your school and your community.

Roosevelt D. Burnett
